AMSTERDAM (Reuters) — KLM Royal Dutch Airlines said today that currency worth about $280,000 had been stolen at nearby Schiphol Air port from one of its planes arriving from Johannesburg, South Africa.

The stolen money was part of a consignment amounting to nearly $16,000,000.

400 Riot Warrants

Nineteen Face Murder Charges

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (CP)—Warrants charging non-capital murder were sworn Tuesday night against 19 men and police began laying riot charges against another 400 as the sequel to a clash in the northern bush Monday that left three men fatally shot.

The wholesale roundup—aftermath of strife between striking bushworkers and independent log-cutter settlers—was the greatest array of murder and riot charges in Canadian history.

Up until 10 p.m. EST, none of those charged had been brought into Kapuskasing, but scores of Ontario Provincial Police had fanned out into the bush country to serve the warrants.

SEEK RAIL

Chief Inspector H. H. Graham, head of the OPP's criminal investigation branch, announced the charges less than 24 hours after the 19 settlers had been charged with shooting with intent to wound and released on $500 bail.

The more serious charges were ordered after Attorney-General Fred Cass Tuesday sent Crown Attorney S. A. Caldwell here from Timmins to confer with the police. His assistant, W. R. DuPont, of Cochrane, had authorized the earlier charges.

ON STRIKE

No charges had been laid previously against the approximately 400 members of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union (LSC) who took part in Monday's early morning clash at Reesor siding, 27 miles west of here.

The union of bushworkers had been on strike since Jan. 16 against the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company, which operates a newsprint plant here and which buys some of its pulpwood "independently from settlers in the wooded area around Kapuskasing."

ARMED MEN

The Reesor siding outburst developed when a crowd of unknown men approached a settlers' stockpile of pulpwood guarded by armed men.

Chief Inspector Graham said Tuesday the new warrants for the two groups will be issued starting immediately but might take considerable time to complete because of the large number.

NOT DROPPED

The original charges of shooting with intent to wound against the settlers are not being dropped, the officer said. The rioting charges call for a maximum penalty of two years in penitentiary.

Specifically, the allegation is that of "unlawful assembly of persons who have begun to disturb the peace tumultuously."

Chief Inspector Graham said it is planned to bring the new groups of arrested men into

Witch Hunt Out

University professors who don't believe in God won't be fired by B.C.'s Social Credit government, Education Minister Leslie Peterson told the legislature yesterday.

He said that as long as he is administering the education portfolio in B.C. there will be no interference in academic freedom.

He was obviously referring to the case of UBC's Prof. Peter Remnant who told a meeting of the university's philosophy club last year that he didn't believe in God.

To calls of "witch-hunt" from NDP benches two Social Crediters earlier this session deplored the thought of having a non-believer on the public payroll. They were Deputy Speaker Alex Matthews (SC—Vancouver Centre) and Tom Bate (SC—Vancouver Point Grey).

Mr. Peterson said that all hiring and firing is done by the university and has nothing to do with him.

College Formula

'TOO RICH FOR B.C.'

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

The Macdonald formula for higher education is too rich for B.C.'s purse.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson told the legislature yesterday it could only be implemented under two conditions:

- If B.C. experienced a phenomenal economic boom.
- And then only if the federal government introduced a radical increase in its contributions for universities.

Dr. John Macdonald, new UBC president, recently proposed a drastic boost in university spending plus a system of regional colleges throughout B.C.

Within eight years, he estimated, operating costs would increase $111,000,000 a year and capital costs $20,000,000.

Mr. Peterson told the House the province couldn't raise such funds unless the B.C. labor force jumped to 700,000 (from 580,000 last year) and a tax of $185 a year for higher education was imposed on every worker.

The money required for the program would almost equal 1960 spending for all levels of education in B.C.

Even if the boom hit and the labor force expanded, Mr. Peterson continued, it could still only be met "if the federal government radically increases its contribution to higher education."

In any case, he continued, the federal government should bear most, if not all, of the cost of higher education.

"At the very least they should bear the full costs of government grants for graduate studies and professional education."

The program of the "education revolution" will be seriously jeopardized unless "the federal government is prepared to come forward with a new and enlightened approach to the problem of financing higher education," he stated.

ARGUMENTS

There were good arguments for higher education becoming a federal responsibility. He said graduates know no provincial boundaries in the application of their knowledge, and Canada's future as a nation depended upon the number of highly educated men it produced.

Medicare Coming to B.C. —If Ottawa Pays Half

British Columbia won't go into medicare unless Ottawa puts up half the cost, the legislature was told yesterday.

Jeers and laughter flowed from NDP benches as Education Minister Peterson made the government's anxiously-awaited medicare policy statement. See Page 13.

"You've moved backward with vigor," called Opposition Leader Robert Strachan.

Mr. Peterson said the government is determined to "avoid the tragic situation that developed in Saskatchewan."

He said B.C. was the first province to propose a comprehensive national health plan at a federal-provincial conference in 1956 and that it "was not too well received."

But now, he continued, "it is our belief that early action can be expected from Ottawa regardless of what party is in office after the next election."

As soon as the April 8 federal election is over the B.C. government would ask for a special federal-provincial conference on a national health plan which would include comprehensive medical coverage.

He said the Saskatchewan medicare program was chaotic and divided brother from sister.

"That will never happen in this province as long as we are the government."

He said that if B.C. moved into medicare itself its taxpayers might eventually be penalized when Ottawa does move into a national health plan.

The government, he stated, is opposed to further increase in taxation and could participate in a national scheme without it.

Polaris Bases Hard to Find

ROME (AP) — The United States was reported Tuesday night encountering political problems in finding a Polaris missile submarine base in Spain or Italy.

But an American source said Washington is going ahead with plans to station three Polaris subs in the Mediterranean starting April 1.

BUN PATROLS

The source said the three will run long-distance patrols out of Holy Loch, Scotland, until a Mediterranean base is found.

Premier Fanfani's Italian government faces a general election in late April or early May and is eager to go to the voters with an Italy free of U.S. lines.

missile bases. Jupiter land-based missiles are being withdrawn from Italy.

Gen. Franco of Spain is said to be demanding admission to NATO as his price for permitting use of the base at Rota, Spain.

TARGET DATE

The U.S. deputy defence secretary, Roswell Gilpatrick, discussed the Polaris problem with Fanfani and Defence Minister Giulio Andreotti. The source said Gilpatrick told the Italians Washington wanted to maintain April 1 as the target date for obtaining Jupiter missile bases in Italy and Turkey, with the Polaris subs taking the place of the Jupiters in NATO defence lines.

Yemen Ousts British Envoy

LONDON (Reuters) — Yemen has told Britain to remove her diplomatic mission from the Red Sea republic within seven days, a foreign office spokesman said Tuesday. The Yemeni republican government had frequently threatened Britain would be asked to remove her diplomats if she did not recognize the new government which took power from the royalists in a coup last September.

43 Believed Dead

Airliner Plunges Into Everglades

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Miami to Chicago jet airliner carrying 43 persons crashed and burned Tuesday in south Florida's everglades wilderness shortly after takeoff in a vicious squall.

The U.S. Coast Guard reported all aboard apparently were killed.

"The fuselage is busted up," said Lt.-Cmdr. James Dillon, one of two helicopter pilots who found and explored the wreck.

BADLY BURNED

"It's been consumed by fire. Badly burned—gutted."

"There were two fires burning. From the air, they looked like bonfires. The tail was broken off. Other major components were scattered around."

Dillon's co-pilot, Lt.-Cmdr. James Wallace, reported seeing at least one body intact.

SEARCH IN DARK

Swamp buggies and other special vehicles lurched toward the pitch-dark crash scene — nine miles from the nearest road—where the Northwest Orient Airlines plane, missing 6½ hours, was found by coast guard officers in a search armada crisscrossing the southwest.

USE FLASHLIGHTS

The coast guard officers landed and explored the area with flashlights.

The plane was a Boeing 720-B jet capable of carrying 165 passengers. Aboard were 35 passengers and a crew of eight.

Dillon and Wallace said it looked as if the airliner pilot had attempted an emergency landing. There was no immediate sign of an explosion.

Crashes in Field

Flight Over Falls Fatal to Four

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.

(CP) — Four men on a pleasure flight over Niagara Falls died Tuesday when their single engine plane crashed into a snow-covered field near the Niagara Parkway.

The men, all from Niagara Falls, N.Y., had taken off only 15 minutes earlier from the St. Catharines, Ont., Flying Club for an aerial view of the falls.

Dead are Theodore Stevens, 28, a native of Winnipeg, and three Americans, John Barclay, 24, Robert Dutko, 26, and James Dowling, 20. All were employed as technicians in the electro-minerals division of the Carbide and Chemical Company.

The plane dug a three-foot crater in the frozen ground and wreckage was scattered over a 100-foot circle.

Stevens, who received his licence in Winnipeg, piloted the plane, a red and white Piper Tri-Pacer owned by the St. Catharines Flying Club.

Oral Vaccine Ban Baffles Whitbread

Disatisfied with "unexplained opposition" to the use of oral polio vaccine for primary protection, a senior public health official in Victoria says he will rebel.

"One wonders, have we been told the whole truth," Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread, senior medical health officer of the Metropolitan Board of Health, said last night. (See Page 13.)

"I personally think that the Sabin oral vaccine could be used for primary vaccinations as it had been used previously."

Use of the Salk vaccine, which requires an injection for each dose, has been recommended by the National Department of Health. It has also recommended that the Sabin vaccine be limited to "booster" doses for persons who have already had the Salk vaccine.

"So far I have not been given any reason why the oral vaccine should not be used... I don't understand why it should not be used as a primary vaccine for the population as a whole, why we don't do a blitz vaccination with it."

Dr. Whitbread said he will put his views before a meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health in August or September which will lay plans for the annual polio vaccination. "I personally think there is no reason why it should not be used as it was used before."

"Why is it only being kept as a booster dose?"

I Know, Says Skillings Province Left in the Lurch

Victoria Social Credit MLA Waldo Skillings yesterday told the legislature that the financial company he works for was involved in last summer's "carefully laid plan" to embarrass the B.C. government.

He has been, and still is, employed by Great West Life Assurance Co.

Speaking in the budget debate he said, "I have been employed with one of Canada's largest financial institutions."

"Probably no one in this House came under greater pressure than I did."

"I am talking about pressure from above. I will mention no names, but I got plenty."

"It seems strange to me that one of the largest financial institutions should, during that period of time, have no money to place in B.C."

"But they had millions for Alberta, Saskatchewan and other provinces at the same time."

"That was not coincidence—I may say it was a carefully laid plan by the financial institutions to try to embarrass this government."

He described himself as Premier Bennett's oldest friend within the legislature. Earlier he referred to a series of articles by John De Wolf in the Vancouver Province. The articles and the paper have been a daily target for government speakers since the session started.

"Do you think he didn't have an axe to grind?"

"I would be the last one to suggest he had been paid to write them because I don't think that would be fair."

He said that some MLA's had come to the defence of the press but he didn't think it was necessary. He said reporters did a fine job.

"I will tell you where the trouble is—the trouble is at the top."

"The great trouble with the press is that they have publishers and financiers who control them and who are troubled with megalomania. I can name two who think they are little kingmakers."

NDP benches rang with cries of "name them, name them."

"Stu Keate and Don Crombie," he said, naming respectively the publishers of the Victoria Times and Vancouver Sun.

"Oh, oh, you're gone," cried out one opposition member.

"Goodbye, Waldo," shouted Tony Garrahy (NDP—Mackenzie).

City MLA Soul Of Brevity

Victoria's Sacred Waldo Skillings yesterday appealed to fellow MLAs to cut short their speeches, then he set them an example.

In 21 minutes he disposed of the budget, last summer's financial crisis, the "plot" against the provincial government's party bonds, the press, the Liberals and the NDP.

It tied in length with the speech of Dr. Patrick McGee (L—Vancouver-Point Grey) for the shortest session.

Mr. Skillings said private members should speak for not more than 40 minutes in either the throne speech or budget debates but not in both. Cabinet ministers shouldn't speak in either but could have a whole hour on their own departmental estimates.

U.K. Tories Survive

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative government easily defeated a Labor motion of non-confidence Tuesday centering about his emergency economic program to counter the effects of Britain's failure to enter the European Common Market.

The Labor amendment to a government confidence motion was beaten by a vote of 333 to 227. Then the government voted support of Macmillan's program 330 to 227.

During debate Tuesday George Brown, acting leader of the Labor party, said that in recent months the Conservative government had suffered "a slap in the face in Paris, the order of the boot in Brussels and a kick in The Bahamas for good measure."

Brown, a candidate with Harold Wilson for the leadership of the Labor party, was the final opposition speaker in the two-day debate.

Macmillan and his cabinet had alienated Britain's friends in the Commonwealth and her partners in the European free trade area. "Literally they haven't a clue" where to go from here, he said.

NOT MYTH

Earlier Edward Heath, lord privy seal, said it was not a "myth" that the Market talks were on the verge of success when France rejected Britain.

Heath, chief negotiator at the Brussels talks, said France's five partners shared with Britain the belief that acceptable arrangements could have been worked out, and soon.

Labor speakers, opening the two-day debate Monday, had said the government was seeking to put all the blame on President de Gaulle when, in fact, there remained wide disagreement on various important points. But Heath denied this.

Earlier James Callaghan, Labor's chief financial spokesman, said Duncan Sandys should seriously consider resigning as Commonwealth relations secretary.

Callaghan, angered by Sandys' speech Monday night, accused him of "never speaking about the Commonwealth as though he really means it."

NELSON, New Zealand (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip arrived today on the royal yacht Britannia to open their tour of New Zealand's south island.

The Britannia hove into Nelson harbor at 9 a.m. and the royal couple reached shore by a smaller craft 45 minutes later to the cheers of most of this fruit and tobacco farming community's citizens.

Home Bases Only—Reds

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union, in a proposal denounced by the U.S. and Britain as a political manoeuvre to force the West on the defensive, called Tuesday on nuclear powers to liquidate foreign nuclear bases.

The Soviet delegate to the 17-nation disarmament conference, Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov, presented a draft East-West treaty that would leave only U.S.-based intercontinental ballistic missiles as the West's chief nuclear deterrent.

The Soviet proposal would require the U.S. to abandon its Polaris-missile submarines and rocket bases abroad and to bring home aircraft carriers and planes capable of delivering nuclear bombs.

Kuznetsov also protested against "measures taken by the United States in order to force nuclear weapons onto Canada."

Ghost Digs Pop Song

ASHTON KEYNES, England — A moisy ghost with a taste for pop songs is rocking and rolling a house trailer near here, says Anglican vicar Rev. John Johnstone.

The ghost makes the trailer "dance" and throws things about inside every time the 13-year-old boy who lives there sings pop songs. But it calms down, the vicar said, when he sings hymns to it.

The ghost began haunting the trailer when the roof was removed from a nearby haunted cottage eight months ago.

Man for the Job

I LAST SUMMER Senator Wallace McCutcheon gave up his long string of executive positions in private enterprise in answer to an appeal that he should enter public life and so give the benefit of his counsel to the federal government in an hour of crisis.

His particular talents at that time were badly needed at Ottawa for Senator McCutcheon, as one of the top five industrialists in Canada and as executive head of the vast array of E. P. Taylor companies, had practical knowledge of the fiscal and economic problems from which the country was suffering.

There can be little doubt that as minister without portfolio in the Diefenbaker cabinet, Senator McCutcheon since last summer has done much to steer Canada back on the financial rails and to improve the economic picture over the widest of fronts.

Now, in a fresh government crisis, Senator McCutcheon has been given a new and more responsible position as the minister of trade and commerce.

As such the senator unquestionably strengthens the government, and gives to the trade department a leadership and drive that it has probably never had before. The phenomenal success of the companies in the E. P. Taylor group has been due largely in the past to the new minister's ability, and it can be taken for certain that the positive thinking and bold policy-making he showed in private enterprise will be transferred to his actions as trade minister.

Mr. McCutcheon is unquestionably the man for the job, and the high respect in which he is held in the industrial east should make him a tremendous asset to the Conservative cause in the forthcoming election.

His influence in the important Ontario bloc, where the Liberals are hoping to extend their 1962 gains, could be a most important factor in the eventual result on April 8.

A Call to Youth

IN DECIDING to enter the federal political arena at this time Mr. Eric Charman sets a fine example for the younger men in this community and others throughout Canada to follow.

There is a crying need for more youth in the House of Commons today which can only be satisfied if young men and women are prepared to accept the responsibilities which are already theirs and prepare themselves now to become the future leaders of this great and rapidly-developing country.

The Canadian electorate at large should provide the opportunity for and give every encouragement to any able young men or women who show a sincere desire to enter politics, regardless of their political affiliation—for it is to youth we must look for guidance in the years ahead.

For far too long the Western world—and Canada is no exception—has been governed by old men who offer little but fixed ideas and outmoded ambitions and whose only strength lies in their experience. However, though experience is vital to progress it is not enough on its own. There must be an injection of new ideas, new values and new courage to make new decisions if this country is to achieve its destiny.

And youth can help to provide this.

Plainly Political

ONE LIBERAL at least sees the fallacy in his leader's nuclear arms policy. At a meeting of his party's national council this delegate objected that to say these arms would be accepted and then the Canadian role renegotiated was "ambiguous," and an attempt to appease non-nuclear voters.

He hit the nail on the head. The Pearson policy is certainly ambiguous. It is a case of riding two horses in opposite directions. It is plainly meant to appease both sides of the question.

Mr. Pearson would accept nuclear weapons because of a so-called commitment to take them and then try to get rid of them by some new agreement.

Apart from being an utterly wishy-washy approach to the question Mr. Pearson must know full well that America would take an extremely dim view of any such proposition, and consider this to be a plain reneging on the part of Canada. It would invite the same charges as have been levelled against the present government.

Nor by any twist of logic can Mr. Pearson claim he would be living up to a "commitment" when his stated intention is to get out of it.

The Liberal leader's stand on the nuclear arms question is the most equivocal of all views expressed on the subject, and patently of purely political practice.

Mr. George Michell

A LIVING link with the early days of settlement of Vancouver Island has been severed with the loss of Mr. George T. Michell, who in his full and vigorous 92-year span of life saw and helped foster most of the growth of his native Saanich.

Born when the white population of the peninsula was a few hundred, in colonial days, Mr. Michell carried in his memory at first hand almost the entire record of the Saanichton agricultural exhibition which he first attended as a baby, and his interest and influence in agriculture and in community affairs generally left an indelible mark.

His name indeed was synonymous with the history of Saanich; he was a past president and the senior member of the Saanich Pioneer Society, and no one could more fittingly have been honorary president of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society which for eleven years of his busy life he served as president.

Mr. Michell had a special place in the affection of this newspaper, for as our subscriber over the longest period of years he cut our 100th birthday cake in 1958, and it is with fullest sympathy that the Colonist extends condolences to his family and his many other friends.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes, and ships, and sealing wax..."

By TOM TAYLOR

A NOTE from Ottawa says that the two principal political leaders, Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Pearson, won't start campaigning until the end of this month.

This is time enough; it still leaves six weeks before the election.

A month, really, would be sufficient. Even three weeks, or two. All the arguments pro and con can be spilled in a few speeches, interviews, television talks. The voter gets confused by too much campaigning.

So, I fancy, do the candidates, who probably would welcome a short, fast election campaign.

AS you read this it may be raining, but February has been a golden month nevertheless.

The year 1963 to date has been outstanding, the weatherman tells us, with more sunshine than for many years past. The flowers are popping, ready to spread their favors before tired eyes, and the wangs have come alive.

The lawns are growing and will soon need cutting, although perhaps we should forget this.

But do we deserve such benevolence, when in so many other parts of the world severe winter weather has brought so much distress, suffering and even death.

I hope we fully appreciate our good fortune.

I KNEW only two dukes; or rather I have met only two dukes. And that, of course, but briefly.

One is the Duke of Norfolk, currently managing the MCC cricket team in Australia, the father of five daughters and no sons, who masterminded coronations and whom the cricketers call "Duke".

The other was the Duke of Sutherland, who died last week at the age of 74. The London Times said of him that to the end he "enjoyed a life of, in the now criticized sense, 'gracious living'".

I sensed something of this when in 1939 I interviewed him aboard his yacht the Sans Par in the Inner Harbor.

He was impeccably courteous but obviously he did not belong to my world; more correctly, I did not belong to his.

I got the impression that had I met him five minutes later he honestly would not have remembered me.

For the most part, I suppose, dukes breathe a rarified air.

I GOT to thinking about that bone of election contention, nuclear arms for Canada.

Actually, I suppose, it wouldn't matter much whether we have them in Canada or not, but that is by the way.

No party seems really to want them.

John D. doesn't want them, not anyway until they are forced on him. Mr. Pearson would take them and then try immediately to get rid of them. Mr. Douglas won't have them in a gift. Mr. Caouette is definitely against them.

What's left, except that within each party there may be some pro and con.

But as an election issue it seems rather a damp squib if officially all groups prefer to steer clear of nuclear arms.

BAD news from Dublin, where it is said the disastrous winter weather has destroyed most of Ireland's shamrock crop.

And it is the only place, the song reminds us, where this perennial favorite grows.

A ton of shamrocks goes to the United States every year, and New York's Fifth Avenue won't be the same if it comes March 17. St. Patrick's triple green leaf can't be worn. Even the White House would be affected.

I daresay a synthetic substitute could be made but that would be close to being an insult.

It will be up to St. Patrick himself to ensure that the wearin' o' the green isn't banished from his birthday celebrations.

Agnes Macphail, the first woman to become a member of Parliament in Canada, died nine years ago today—in 1954. She entered the Commons in 1921, representing the United Farmers of Ontario in Grey South-East. The then 31-year-old school teacher was one of four women contesting the election—the first in which women held the franchise—but only she was elected. She was the lone woman in the House for 14 of the 19 years she was at Ottawa.

1907—The city of Portage la Prairie, Man., was incorporated.

"How long do you think before they'll crack up?"

The Next Step

THE Kennedys and especially I think Mrs. Kennedy have, as somebody put it, "done a lot for art" in America. Dwight Macdonald, a great authority on everything, but in real life just a film critic, is furious about culture and the prosperity it is enjoying.

You see, not so long ago culture in America belonged to quite a small number of people: to the Founding Fathers, their relatives and friends, some Congregational ministers, a few Episcopal ministers and a small group of Unitarian laymen.

In time this group was enlarged to include an occasional artisan like Walt Whitman; but people like Whitman did not attach themselves to "culture," they bullied their way in and added a bit to the substance of it from the inside, as you might say.

Then it was extended again, to include people who didn't add to it, but appeared to belong by talking and writing about about it as a way to make a living. This is how Dwight Macdonald got in. But the extension has gone far enough, Macdonald and his sort think. They're as sore as jumpin' Jehoshaphat that all kinds of people are going to galleries, concerts and even movies, and paying no attention to the Macdonalds. They can't kill a play any more, or a film, and this is pretty serious culture. If everybody enjoys it and makes up his own mind about it, there will be more and more people who know what they like and look for what they like and the Macdonalds will have to have more than beads and manners to hold a special place in society.

Leonard Bernstein, for instance, is ruining the deal for the Macdonalds by helping young New Yorkers by the thousand to enjoy good music, and of course he has become to them a cross between a cultural charlatan and a parish dog.

And of course, the odds are against the Macdonalds. Bernstein teaches thousands of youngsters what melody is, and harmony, and rhythm, and demonstrates what he teaches with a very fine orchestra and these teaching concerts are seen on television by millions of people who in consequence enjoy their music a little more intelligently.

This makes them "middle brow" and against these and their teachers Dwight Macdonald writes an abusive book "Against the American Grain." It was intended to destroy the new enjoyers. Instead it delighted them: the Macdonalds are no longer Olympian terrorists hurling thunderbolts to the trembling, only plain but funny men with beards who howl like TV's favorite overactors from their little mounds.

Mrs. Kennedy hasn't helped them a bit. It's true that she paints like a primitive Grandma Moses, but she has a lot of pull and thousands of people who can't travel to Paris just to look at pictures have now seen the Mona Lisa (she's that rather plain lady who became renowned for her "mysterious beauty" because the critics and art historians wrote a lot of meaningless into the twinkle in her eye).

The investment index followed the same general pattern as the productivity index, with preliminary figures for 1962 indicating a 33 per cent gain over 1961.

Spain will report a budget surplus of about $108 million for 1962 in spite of public expenditures raised by $1.63 billion over those of 1961, Navarro Rubio, minister of finance, told the Spanish Cortes (Parliament) a few weeks ago.

Rubio termed the Spanish economy "perfectly healthy" and said the country's new development plan aims to place Spain on an economic par with the strongest countries in the world.

Spain's corporate tax rate, incidentally, is just 22 per cent—lower than those of France, West Germany and Italy, and far below the 33 per cent U.S. companies pay.

By SHAUN HERRON

Now that thousands more people have seen her they will need the critics and art historians with a bullock in their own eyes and this is the sort of thing that's spoiling the pitch for the man who lives off culture.

And this, by a fairly natural progression, brings me to Trixie's mother, who was Miss Frances Black, or Mrs. John Birnie Phillips.

The Mona Lisa business set the people of our town agog because if this continental dish with the roving eye could start

Spain's Upsurge

By CARL W. BITTER

POSSIBLY the most dramatic economic upsurge in Europe is taking place outside the Common Market countries. It is in Spain.

Gross national product in 1962 climbed more than 5 per cent from the 1961 level, according to the Spanish ministry of finance, and the country believes it can do better.

A broad program of economic stimulus is planned. Called the Spanish Economic Development Plan, it will support Spain's bid to join the European Common Market.

Regulations bearing upon foreign investments will be liberalized to permit a greater degree of foreign ownership in Spanish firms. An agency in charge of enforcing price controls will be abolished. The government will augment its policy of freer imports, lower tariffs and less regulation. An Institute of Foreign Trade will be established to encourage exports. A quality control system will be set up for exports and will be simplified.

New measures will encourage the development of small and medium-sized companies while assisting mergers.

Tourism promotion will include cataloguing areas, towns and villages virtually unknown now to the foreign visitor.

Spain's increasing productivity is reflected in the following figures, using the year 1958 as a base of 100: the 1960 production index, 111.9; the 1961 index, 121.4; and the 1962 monthly average, 134.5.

The investment index followed the same general pattern as the productivity index, with preliminary figures for 1962 indicating a 33 per cent gain over 1961.

Spain will report a budget surplus of about $108 million for 1962 in spite of public expenditures raised by $1.63 billion over those of 1961, Navarro Rubio, minister of finance, told the Spanish Cortes (Parliament) a few weeks ago.

'A Sucker Was I'

Yelping Snow

By CASSANDRA from New York

WHEN I left home, I hourished a crafty hope that I would get out of all that nasty white stuff that has been lying around Britain for so long.

A sucker was I. In New York the temperature was five degrees Fahrenheit and the wind blew what felt like a blizzard of frozen razor blades into my eyeballs.

In Lansing, Michigan, it was minus sixteen—or forty-eight degrees below freezing.

In a sub-zero temperature the snow squeaks when you walk on it. Here it positively yelps when I put foot to ground.

Only in Korea have I known it colder. The beer froze solid there and forty-ton tanks crossed the Imjin River.

The tanks have not yet crossed the Hudson River that separates Manhattan from New Jersey, but the ice floes are growing bigger every day.

THIS is the land of the gim-mick and the television newscasters are no exception. When I was here last the great vogue was to appear to be so relaxed in front of the cameras that you felt that they were half asleep, or dead, or something.

They have woken up a bit now. One bright boy on a Mississippi television station has hit on the following gimmick.

When he is reading the news and says "and I quote," he holds both hands up with two fingers extended to represent quotation marks.

I found this visual trick more interesting than the news he was reading.

THE United States is the most friendly country in the world.

In Britain, complete strangers passing each other even in isolated places maintain an iron silence.

The only exception I know is in the country where people who work on the land will often pass the time of day with people they don't know.

Here it is very different. I was walking down a hotel corridor first thing in the morning when I was greeted by a chap I had never seen before with a nearly "and how are YOU?"

I was so astonished by this passing affability and was thinking just HOW I was and what I could reply to this genial challenge—when he was gone. The cordial ship in the night.

Maybe it was just as well. I was feeling lousy.

THE Americans travel by air more than any other people in the world. Fares are often cheaper than by rail and cities like New York and Washington are linked by an hourly air shuttle service.

All is speed and hustle—except on the ground where, like everywhere else in the world, you can spend more time hanging about than in the air. To try to overcome this infuriating handicap the airlines have invented a new mollifying language to lull the customer into thinking that he is not going to be as late as he might think.

When a plane is cancelled or held up the passengers are often diverted to the following flight which may be several hours later. This flight is, through some twisted logic, always referred to as "the advanced flight"—which is intended to give you the impression that you will arrive ahead of your original time.

You don't.

When an aircraft hasn't turned up because of bad weather or a trial of strength with the top of a mountain, a sweet voice over the loudspeaker explains that it is all due to an "equipment problem."

What you think is a blown fuse is a missing airplane.

When finally you are ready to leave, after spending half a day at the airport, and it looks as if the brute has got to get in the air, the same honeyed voice announces that the flight is going to depart "momentarily."

For "momentarily" read "in about an hour if you are lucky."

JUDGING by church attendance this is the most devout of all Christian lands.

Between 60 and 70 per cent of the population attend divine service every Sunday.

For those who are dissatisfied with their pastors there is plenty of spiritual advice around.

Listen to the Reverend Cooper calling his flock in this advertisement in a Brooklyn newspaper:

"Blessing—Blessing. Don't miss Rev. Cooper's six-day special. Call today for fast action and quick results. Call this gifted and experienced man immediately."

"Believe in God, also in me, John chap, fourteen verses one to six guaranteed to analyze your condition from cradle to grave. Rev. Cooper will master any problem. See him today, feel better tomorrow. Guaranteed to keep all secrets. By appointment only Rev. Cooper, 1202 Broadway, Brooklyn."

This sort of thing is dangerous. It could begin the destruction of the whole Fine Art business, whose very existence is proof of the esoteric nature of (what we call) "culture" and the fungosity of the Macdonalds. The end result could well be an understanding in the public mind that the nature of Fine Art "criticism" is fungivorous and that the "artist" is not an artist but an alienated artisan. The next step is to realize that Michaelangelo was really a superb interior decorator and mason. This would be an enormously popular discovery, and could make the common herd feel at home with Michaelangelo or Whistler's Mother-in-law, or both.

The next step is for the Macdonalds to shave off their beards and sell popcorn and peanuts to people listening to Leonard Bernstein or looking at Whistler's Mother-in-law.

Bolstered Cabinet Gets to Work On Election Jobs

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet of Prime Minister Diefenbaker, torn with dimension for more than a week, officially took on a new form Tuesday, held an apparently routine meeting and tackled April 8 election planning.

Three ministers were sworn into new portfolios, replacing former ministers George Hees in trade, Douglas Harkness in defence, and Pierre Sevigny as associate defence minister.

TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Within minutes of the swearing-in ceremony at Government House, attended by Governor-General Vanier—who now has the title "right honorable" for life as the result of his appointment to the United Kingdom Privy Council Tuesday—the re-constituted cabinet met in its accustomed place, the Canadian Privy Council chamber of Parliament Hill's East Block.

New at the cabinet table was Marcel Lambert, veterans minister, who was speaker of the troubled House of Commons in the Parliament which was dissolved last week.

IN NEW ROLE

An old hand in a new role was Gordon Churchill, who moved up from veterans minister to the defence portfolio to replace Mr. Harkness.

The new trade minister, Senator M. Wallace McCutcheon, a minister without portfolio since last August.

Mr. Diefenbaker had no announcements before or after the meeting. Replying to a reporter's question, however, he said the government's big trade drive, Operation Foreign Markets, would proceed as scheduled, unaffected by the election call and the switch in portfolios.

Reports of further cabinet resignations died away. Transport Minister Balcer was reported to have reaffirmed his intention to remain in support of the government's nuclear policy which he interprets as meaning no nuclear warheads on Canadian soil now.

Election Notes

Two-Price System Sacred Farm Aim

REGINA (CP)—A two-price system for Canadian farm produce will be the core of Social Credit party agriculture policy, Martin Klein, national Social Credit League president, said Tuesday.

The party urges adoption of a system under which the farmer would receive parity prices for grain sold in Canada and negotiated prices for exported grain.

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Broadview Progressive Conservative Association announced it has cancelled a nominating convention Friday because of calls from voters who want George Hees as their candidate in the April 8 election.

However, the former trade minister said Saturday when he resigned from the cabinet that he wouldn't stand to re-election.

Canada, Reds In Rail Deal

MONTREAL (CP)—Top Russian and Canadian railway officials will exchange visits this winter, the CNR said yesterday, to examine facilities and equipment, particularly in winter operations.

Garment Union Sets Demands

TORONTO (UPI)—The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union (ILGWU) Monday served notice on Canada's fashion industry it would demand a minimum $1 an hour wage for all apprentices in forthcoming contract negotiations.

Progress

Urgent repairs to save historic Melnick House on Elbow Street from dry rot are being carried out by provincial employees. Works Minister Chast says work is progressing satisfactorily.

Women Answered

OTTAWA (CP)—Making an unscheduled appearance in a closed Liberal council meeting Tuesday's members of the Voice of Women succeeded in putting two questions to party officials on nuclear weapons.

Mrs. Charlotte McEwen of Ottawa, a member of the VoW's Ontario committee, said later that replies were made from the head table by J. W. Pickersgill, MP for Bonaville-Twillington.

Her questions and his answers: Question: Will there be a role for a Liberal candidate who is not convinced of the need for haste in signing the final agreement on the nuclear warheads but who supports the party platform in all other respects?

Answer: The Liberal party is a democratic party. If a majority of members in a riding convention wish to choose the candidate who differs on this one question, I do not believe he would be repudiated by the party.

Question: Will the party whip operate on votes on nuclear arms or would it be a free vote to accommodate those Liberals who have general misgivings?

Answer: Canada is a free country. No whip can control the votes of members in any way whatever and I am sure no Liberal whip would ask a candidate to vote against his conscience on this question. We need to put beside this the need for a reliable majority to insure stable government. It would be very sad if there would ever be a Canadian Parliament where no Liberal would vote according to his conscience.

Wheat Plank Upheld

OTTAWA (CP)—The Liberal party was accused Tuesday of trying to "buy votes" with its wheat policy.

Roy Marler, Edmonton-area farmer who for 10 years headed the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, tried to tear up the platform plank calling for a two-price wheat system and a $2-a-bushel floor price.

Meetings

Dr. W. R. H. White of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory will discuss the internal structure of the earth, moon and planets in a lecture sponsored by the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada at 8 p.m. today at Victoria University, Richmond Road.

Victoria and Chinatown Lions Clubs will hold a joint meeting at King Arthur's Round Table, 1318 Blanshard, at 6:30 p.m.

Brentwood Bay Senior Citizens' Club will meet at 2 p.m. in the Brentwood Community Hall.

Dr. Norman Z. Alcock, president of the Canadian Peace Research Institute, will discuss Knowledge vs. Ignorance at a meeting of the Victoria Canadian Club at 12:15 p.m. at the Empress Hotel.

After Election

Pearson Plan Later

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal Leader Pearson said Tuesday he has "some ideas" on Canada's future defence role.

But he declined to spell them out at a press conference.

Mr. Pearson said he will make his views known in detail if the Liberals are elected and become responsible for defence policy. In the meantime, he said he doubts whether an election campaign is a suitable time for such detail—it was a time for principles.

Clarifying statements he has made about the need for a re-examination of Canada's defence policy, Mr. Pearson said this study should be carried out both outside and inside Parliament and within the Western alliance.

"What the results would be, I don't know," he said.

But he added that he would hope for a "more appropriate" role for Canadian forces.

MAY BE BEST ROLE

A lot of emphasis had been placed on conventional forces, he added, and the review may establish that this "may well be the best role."

However, he denied ever having said Canadian forces should "necessarily" fill a non-nuclear role.

HAVE ADVICE

Before Canadian commitments were altered, the government should have the advice of a defence policy committee of Parliament and the whole House of Commons.

Having done that, the government and it alone would make the decision and "would stake its political life on that decision."

Until then, the government should honor its commitments to NORAD and NATO by accepting defensive nuclear weapons at home and in Europe until Canada can change its role in consultation with its allies.

Diefenbaker Challenged

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal leader Lester Pearson Tuesday offered to debate election campaign issues on TV with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and said this puts the next move "up to him." Mr. Pearson said he would start his campaign with a Montreal speech Feb. 23.

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 300 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

What a strange argument is presented by your correspondent Mr. W. G. York!

To say that we should accept nuclear arms from the United States because "we have known since the first A-bomb fell on Japan what was involved in nuclear warfare and we have to accept our moral responsibility..." we cannot now delegate to others a job with which we refuse to soil our own hands" implies that, unless we accept nuclear warheads, our role in international affairs should be at best a passive one, of waiting for one side or another to start a war, or at worst, an active one, of "delegating" the United States to involve the world in war.

Since we are all morally responsible for the existence of atomic weapons, we are therefore morally obliged to cry out in a loud voice for disarmament. Canada's voice in the UN can hardly continue to be an independent voice if, by accepting nuclear arms, we commit ourselves, in the eyes of the rest of the world, as supporters of American foreign and defence policy.

MRS. W. T. LAWSON,
1334 St. David Street.

Nuclear Warheads

The military value of nuclear warheads in the Canadian defence scheme is doubtful. Top brass are at sixes and sevens as to the need for these. Scandinavian countries get along very well without them. These countries are geographically closer to the danger area than Canada. The acquisition of nuclear warheads at once labels the possessor as a member of the provocative nuclear group and adds impetus to the mad race now in progress between the United States and Russia...

Cadboro Bay Zoning

The proposed garden apartment development in Cadboro Bay village, if properly planned with the buildings set well back from the roads, would be an asset to all of us.

The proposed high-rise apartment planned for Haro Road being on the crest of the hill where no one's view will be obstructed, and set in 11 acres of parklike surroundings could not be more desirable.

It would be wrong when zoning laws are being drawn up covering a district as large as Ten Mile Point, Queenswood, Gordon Head and Cadboro Bay, to shut the door on any one segment of the population such as retired couples and single persons who are unable to cope with the upkeep of homes and gardens.

It is unfortunate that Mr. Alan Macfarlane has been drawn into the fracas. However his proposal to add extra red tape and expense to the taxpayers who already pay qualified town planners and the Capital Region Planning Board to advise the elected municipal officers, cannot be accepted without comment.

Premier Bennett, being an apartment dweller himself, I hope will be sympathetic to the needs of Sanich where we have no luxury apartments and not allow the legislature to interfere in municipal affairs such as this.

lature it may become necessary to take over the oil companies if something is not done.

Mr. Shelford, a rancher from the northern Okanagan riding, has waged a long battle for reductions in what he regards as unreasonable gasoline prices in the north and interior.

STEEN MEASURE

Tuesday he called for a royal commission or some other inquiry that could take stern measures and hear witnesses under oath into gasoline prices.

He added: "We do not need an investigation to find out if something is wrong. We know it is wrong. The thing we want to know is how it can be righted."

"I want to know what a fair base price (for all B.C.) is, and apparently the industry will not consider setting a fair price themselves."

ONE BASE PRICE

"I think there should be one base price for all, no matter whether they are service stations, federal, provincial or municipal governments or industry large and small."

He said the only difference in gasoline prices between one area and another should be caused by transportation expenses.

"Some members say we must take the oil companies over. This is not my intention, but I would like to make it very clear that, if my plan does not work, then no doubt it will come to that."

Lots of Help for Jimmie

Some 70 families offered their help to the Family and Children's Service following a Colonist story about an 11-year-old boy named Jimmie who needed a foster home.

Before expropriation of the B.C. Electric the Public Utilities Commission permitted the power company a fair profit.
This could be done in petroleum products.

He said the people are not going to sit idly by and be "gouged unreasonably for a product which today is a necessity the same as power and water and transportation facilities."

He said previous inquiries had had difficulty acquiring oil company records.
Monday C. H. MacAllan, manager of the Pacific marketing region of Imperial Oil, challenged any persons alleging a combine to send the information to the director of investigations under the Combines Act.

Mr. Shelford said several persons have taken the matter up with the director without success.

This was because "there are too many loopholes in the Combines Act."

Lumber Cargo Biggest

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Greek freighter Rifnos has
530 board feet of packaged lumber, the largest single cargo ever loaded in B.C. and perhaps the world.

The previous largest lumber cargo shipped from here was 10,000,000 board feet, loaded aboard the Norwegian ship Arled last March.

Union Argument 'Unrealistic'

OTTAWA (CP)—A key argument being used by a British Columbia union against B.C. legislation making it illegal for unions to use union dues or membership fees for political purposes was described as unrealistic in the Supreme Court of Canada Tuesday.

Douglas Brown, counsel for the attorney-general of B.C., made the statement in opposing an appeal action by Local 15-801 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union (OCA) against B.C. court decisions upholding the validity of the legislation.

Frank Scott of Montreal, counsel for the union, argued that the legislation was designed by the B.C. Social Credit government to prevent the development of the New Democratic Party through contributions from affiliated unions.

Mr. Scott said a union member who does not wish to support a political party being assisted financially by his union can contract out.

"Any person who doesn't want to do it, doesn't have to do it," he said.

However, Mr. Brown said that "if a trade union is permitted to pay funds to a political party, and such funds have been paid by the trade union member as a condition of membership in the union, then his support of a political party of his choice has been preempted."

For Nomination

Chatterton Back In Time

George Chatterton, Conservative MP for Esquimalt-Saanich when the House was dissolved, will be back from Ottawa in time for the Tory nominating convention in his riding.

The Esquimalt-Saanich Progressive Conservative Association will hold its nominating meeting in the Lake Hill Women's Institute Hall at 8 p.m. Feb. 21.

Mr. Chatterton is not expected to be opposed.

Coun. Robert Ostler of Saanich announced yesterday he will seek the Liberal nomination in the same riding.

Timing is right for a federal election because Canada should present a unified government to the rest of the world, said the 42-year-old B.C. Telephone technician.

"It was obvious the affairs of Canada were not in a very sound position. There was too much vacillating and no firm policy," Coun. Ostler said.

The name of B.C. Liberal president William Gilmour of Pentlitz has also been mentioned in connection with the nominating, which will be made in a meeting in Tillam School at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Health Unit To Share New Building

New civic building planned for Sidney includes accommodation for the Sidney RCMP detachment, Sidney village commission offices, Sidney waterworks offices and Sidney health unit.

Plans for the one-storey building were shown to a meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health Tuesday.

SEPARATE ENTRANCE

The building plan provides a separate entrance for the health unit. The board's share of costs would be some $38,000.

Of this, $12,000 would come from the federal government, $12,000 from the provincial government and the remaining $12,000 from voluntary agencies.
Senior medical health officer
Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread reported.

The plans, by Victoria architect Clive Campbell, allow for a combined courtroom-council chamber but have not yet been approved by the village commission.

Olympic Plan in Gear

By JIM TANG

About next Christmas, if plans work out, Victorians will get the chance to see Canada's 1964 Olympic hockey team play against a touring Swedish club. What about 800 fans at Esquimalt Municipal Centre last night was only the embryo of an idea formulated in the imaginative mind of Father David Bauer, who is to assemble and coach the team which will try for the Olympic gold medal.

Father Bauer, brother of Bobby Bauer of Boston Bruins, once-famed "Kraut Line" and coach of the St. Michael's College team when it won the Memorial Cup in 1961, suggested only last year that assembling the best talent in Canadian universities might just be the best plan for an Olympic team.

AT UBC
Perhaps surprisingly, Canadian Amateur Hockey Association officials found the plan favorable and acted on it at once. Father Bauer was at University of British Columbia, and it was there that the next Canadian Olympic hockey team started to take shape.

Perhaps no more than four of the players on the club which easily handed Esquimalt all-stars a 3-2 defeat will be on the Canadian Olympic team, but Father Bauer's club as it stands should have convinced doubters that his idea has merit.

Even without defenceman Terry O'Malley and goalkeeper Ken Broderick, two players who have every chance to be there when the final selections are made, the UBC team looked good enough to give backing to Father Bauer's contention that it could play with honor in any junior hockey league in Canada.

There was more than a trace of the expected good coaching and there was no doubting but that considerable of the dedication and enthusiasm of Father Bauer has rubbed off on his charges.

SOME TALENT
And there was also some pretty fair hockey talent on display, including in Barry McKenzie, a raw-boned defenceman who played for Father Bauer's 1961 junior champions, a player who would now be an asset to any Western Hockey League club and who surely has a chance for a career in the National Hockey League (with Toronto Maple Leafs) when his Olympic bid is over.

CUP THREAT
Esquimalt's all-stars, who could be a Coy Cup threat, put up a good game but only Cal Kemp could beat the defence which Father Bauer rates as the strength of his club.

Kemp got both Esquimalt goals. His last was the first of the game, and it may have been a mistake. In any event, Esquimalt's all-stars, who could be a Coy Cup threat, put up a good game but only Cal Kemp could beat the defence which Father Bauer rates as the strength of his club.

Kromm, 34-year-old Calgary native, sat disconsolately in the back seat of a bus a few minutes after the Smokies dropped a 4-3 decision to the Nova Scotia Senior Hockey League's Halifax Tartans Tuesday night.

"I need four more. I've asked and asked. Nobody will help. Not the CAHA nor individual clubs. I'll try again but what's the use?"

Kromm's gloom after six straight losses in a seven-game exhibition tour was mixed with wonderment.

SHOOTING WIDE
"You saw it. They (the Tartans) are about on a par with the Norwegian and East German national teams. Maybe the desire isn't there. We're not finishing the plays and the shooting is miles off."

The team was scheduled to fly from Halifax to Montreal today and then fly to Geneva.

It spurred the UBC team to quick retaliation and it came back with two quick goals and held control the rest of the way. It was 3-1 after one period and 6-3 after two.

Dave Chambers led the winners with two goals and three assists. Stu Gibbs had two goals and Bob Parker two goals each and Garry Morris a goal and an assist.

Bucyk's two goals and one assist again put him in front in the NHL scoring race with 24 goals and 35 assists for the season to date. His 50 points is three more than Detroit's Gordie Howe. The Red Wings did not play Tuesday night.

The six goals equalled the Bruins' single game goal production high for the campaign. And Toppazzini lost what would have been a third goal for him when he put the puck in the net in the third period only to have the goal disallowed.

Bucyk's assist came on wingmate Tommy Williams' 20th goal, which put the Bruins in front by three early in the final frame. Centre Murray Oliver had three assists for the night and the line of Oliver-Bucyk-Williams skated off with seven points.

Bucyk's goals came in the first period after rookie Leon Rochefort sent the Rangers ahead 1-0.

Former Bruin Don McKenney, swapped for Dean Prentice a week ago, tied it for New York before the period had ended. But the Bruins went ahead 4-3 in the middle period on Toppazzini's first score of the night, and a nifty goal by Guy Gendron, following New York rookie Jim Neilson's goal on a power play.

Gendron's 17th came on a whirling backhand shot. Toppazzini's second of the night, and 14th of the season, was recorded with Boston a player short.

Palmer Winner Of Soggy Event

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Arnold Palmer muscled his way to a two-under-par 78 Tuesday to win the rain-plagued $35,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament.

League Races Almost Over

Duncans have clinched first place in the basketball league, and Safeways are assured of at least a tie for first in the Utility hockey division of the Independent Athletic Association.

by one stroke over Gary Player. Palmer finished the 72-hole tournament in 15-under-par 273.

It marked the third straight Phoenix victory for Palmer. He won in a playoff with Doug Sanders in 1961 and took last year's tournament by 12 strokes. Player, who last week lost the Palm Springs tournament in a playoff with Jack Nicklaus, trailed Palmer by a stroke during the final 18 holes over the soggy 6,673-yard, par 74 Arizona Country Club course.

He could have tied Palmer had he made a four-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole. But after standing around nearly seven minutes waiting for a putt by Don January to drop from the cup lip, Player missed his shot by six inches.

Player was disturbed by the wait and sat staring at the scoreboard as Palmer dropped a two-foot putt for his par on No. 18 and victory. "January didn't have a right to wait seven minutes for that putt to drop," Player said. "It wasn't going to drop ever, not without hitting it. It was very nerve-racking, especially knowing I needed a bird to tie Arnie. Imagine, a four-footer, and I missed it."

January, who finished with a 279, eventually had to nudge his ball into the 18th cup. There was still a chance Player could have tied Palmer by a penalty ruling on the sixth green. But the Professional Golfers Association ruled that a bee, and not Palmer, had moved his ball while he was addressing it. He got a par four on the hole.

The victory, Palmer's second on the winter tour, was worth $3,300. Player banked $3,400. Third-place money, $2,300, went to Nicklaus for his 15-under-par 275. Fourth was Gardner Dickinson at 276, good for $1,900.

Two or Three Weeks

FA Cup Final Delay Predicted

LONDON (Reuters) — An emergency meeting of the English Football Association committee in London discussed Tuesday the unprecedented step of postponing its Soccer Cup final.

The final, scheduled for May 4 at London's Wembley Stadium, could be staged two or even three weeks later because of the havoc caused to the early rounds by prolonged ice and snow.

Results of Tuesday's discussion were not disclosed and the committee intends to meet again next Monday to review the position. It will then decide on dates for the semi-finals and final.

Normally there is a five-week gap between the semi-finals and final but the semi-final date of March 30 has been set aside for the sixth round of the competition.

The committee made a further appeal to clubs to play their third- and fourth-round ties as soon as possible to clear up both rounds by March 4. Nineteen of the 22 third-round ties still have to be completed, which means there are 48 clubs still involved in the fourth-round draw.

While the English Football Association has extended the season for two weeks at the request of the football league, its Welsh and Scottish counterparts have taken bolder steps.

The Welsh Football Association has announced the season will go on to June 1, while the Scottish League has suggested a plan for summer football.

The weather outlook remained poor. Eight of the 12 Football Association Cup ties scheduled for today were postponed.

Only two matches were played Tuesday night, Grays and Northfleet tying Sunderland 1-1 in a fourth-round cup match and Leicester City beating Everton 3-1 in an English League first-division game.

Garden Notes

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

One problem that faces every would-be gardener in our part of the country is how to select, from the seed racks or the seed catalogues, those varieties of flowers and vegetables best suited to our climatic conditions.

There is a general belief among the gardeners of Victoria that any plant which can be grown elsewhere in Canada can be grown twice as well on Vancouver Island, and this is simply not true. We have only to think of the apricot, for instance, which thrives in Southern Ontario and in the Okanagan, but which is uncertain and unreliable here.

Our growing season is as long as that of Southern Ontario and much longer than in any of the prairie provinces, but our nights are cool while theirs are stifling. This means that tomato varieties highly successful and widely grown in Ontario, such as Campbell 114, Rutgers, Stokessdale and Beefsteak, grow much too slowly in our cooler climate and often fail to ripen any fruit at all. This holds also for such eastern varieties of corn as the excellent Country Gentleman and Stowell's Evergreen.

Even the universally-grown Golden Bantam is not always successful here.

Generally speaking, English vegetable varieties do well here. The biggest difference in the climates is in the distribution of the annual rainfall—wet summers are fairly common in England, whereas we can usually count on a prolonged period of mid-summer drought. Where regular watering isn't practicable, English varieties will often fail here through lack of soil moisture.

Strangely enough, vegetable varieties developed especially for the prairie provinces are amazingly successful here, even though our climates are so different. I think this is because varieties bred to ripen quickly in the very short growing season on the prairies will ripen successfully in our cooler but much longer season of growth. In other words, they don't get as much summer heat here, but what they get is spread over a longer period of time. Such prairie-bred tomatoes as Early Bush Beefsteak, Manitoba and Hybrid Mustang and such corn as Hybrid Golden Beauty have ripened excellent crops here.

Trouble is, there isn't much information in the seed catalogues, nor on the seed packets in the stores, whether or not that particular variety is a good performer in our climate.

I get quite a few letters about about this time of the year asking me to name the best corn, the best pea, the best gladiolus or rose for the southern tip of Vancouver Island. I always get a little embarrassed when these requests come in, for with my limited facilities for testing, I feel it would be rash and presumptuous for me to name any variety as the "best."

I am not an experimental station—I am just a backyard gardener, and I don't have the time, the space, nor the money—especially the money—to try out everything new that comes along. With these limitations, about the best I can do to provide some guidance is to list and describe a few flowers and vegetables which have performed well in my own garden and which have won a nod of approval from the martinet of the Chesnut kitchen. As I say, there may be—and probably are better kinds which I haven't gotten around to growing yet, but my next few columns will be devoted to describing a few kinds which have taken kindly to my soil and aspect.

JOHN CROSBY Reports Current Disease

Youth Riddled by Boredom

All Their Faces Wear Same Look

PARIS—Boredom is a great literary theme of these wildly prosperous and curiously frustrating times.

All the writers, to say nothing of the movie directors, are on the boredom kick and I can see trouble looming. The great problem is to keep the readers awake while you're boring them to tears.

I recall attending Kraps' Last Tape by Beckett, which opened with a ten-minute silent search by an old, old man for a banana.

I recall complaining at the time that it got awfully boring to watch that old man look for a banana for ten minutes and someone explained that Beckett was trying to demonstrate the sheer boredom of old age. The only way he could do this was to bore the audience.

He succeeded. But in boring the audience he almost lost me. Certainly he lost me.

Well, time passed and the art of literary boredom made progress, as they say. Presently we got the Italian movies like La Dolce Vita and L'Avventura and the rest of them. You know what I mean.

But boredom is not just a literary invention; it's a very real problem with the young. Le Nouveau Candide, a Parisian weekly, says it's worse than a problem, it's a disease.

The "adolescent malady," says Candide, afflicts 40 per cent of the young folks and the newspaper went on to ask some of them why.

Said one: "I'm bored all the time, as are all my chums. Now we go to the theatre, the movies, the bottles a disquiet (juke box joints). Nothing's any fun."

One boy, asked if girls didn't help, gave this astonishing answer: "Sometimes to think about a girl provokes a little melancholy, which relieves the boredom. The company of someone who pleases me distracts me. But flirting does not bore me. One is just less bored with a girl than with a boy."

Candide dug up a Prof. Du-gast-Rouille who says that young people are physiologically a whole new species. Their faces are all alike in France, Belgium, Germany, and Austria, all "withdrawn laterals," which is another way of saying they all look like Anthony Perkins, including the girls.

"The majority of the adolescents of today have a squat or receding forehead," said the professor, "symbol of an indubitable untalented. There's almost a total absence of brow. They don't think and, not thinking, they are bored."

"For these laterally withdrawn types," movement replaces deep thinking. They find a remedy to their boredom in speed, movement, jazz, twist, etc."

Eventually, it'll be very difficult to bore this young generation. They'll be bored with boredom, a state that might verge dangerously on being interested. But of course, they won't call it that. They'll call it anti-boredom and it'll be a big rage, I predict, in about five years.

At the Gallery

Permanent Collection Vitrally Important

There comes a time in the growth and development of an art gallery when its permanent collection becomes of vital importance to its standing both locally and nationally. Also there are months in each year when things are quiet, in late summer and during December and the first part of January, and it is not advisable to spend large sums to bring in special exhibitions during these periods.

That is when the permanent collection becomes an asset. As it is constantly being added to there is no danger of it becoming repetitive.

Take the Pollard Collection, for instance. Some rare Hokusai 19th-century woodcuts, Chinese ceramics of the Sung Dynasty, Tao and Satsuma ware, Persian paintings, Japanese lacquer and metal work, and scroll paintings of the Ashikaga period have been recently donated by Fred and Isabel Pollard of San Francisco.

Rare and extremely valuable, Hokusai woodcut prints are much sought after by collectors and we are very fortunate in having such fine examples in our gallery collection.

The study of Japanese woodcut prints can be a vast and fascinating one. It is an art developed in the late 17th century which attained its greatest popularity after the invention of the Nishiki-E or polychrome woodcut printing in the second half of the 18th century.

Woodcut prints are essentially different from reproductions of paintings. They exist in their own right. They have been made, from the making of the wood blocks to the final printing processes, entirely in the traditional manner since the beginning of Ukiyo-E prints in Japan.

They have greatly interested occidental painters in the use made of the pictorial space. A new vision was created, this was an introduction of the Eastern aesthetic to the art of the West.

In contrast to the 15 woodcut prints by Hiroshige which form the Hildegarde Wyllie Memorial Collection, the work of Hokusai stems from the Chinese school, though both artists profited by the great tradition of landscape painting.

We have recently acquired by private purchase with funds donated by the Leon and Thera Koerner Foundation and the women's committee of the art gallery, a twelve-fold carved and gilded 19th century Chinese screen.

Rich in symbolism, the carved panels refer to the seasons, to long life and good luck. Four vertical panels represent the eight Taoist Immortals.

Dominating the main gallery, a Chinese crane in bronze stands almost six feet high, one of a pair from the Imperial Palace at Peking. It is a unique example of fine design. This has been donated by Miss Flora Burns.

Announce New Healing Substance... Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids... and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and greatly relieved... actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories were a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator). Satisfaction guaranteed or your money refunded.

Fleming Shooting In Police Hands

OTTAWA (CP)—Quebec Provincial Police have taken over the investigation into the shooting of 20-year-old Donald Watson Fleming, it was announced Tuesday.

Police Chief Walter Maheux of nearby South Hill, Que., took a statement Monday from the justice minister's son at Ottawa Civic Hospital where the youth has been since the Feb. 2 shooting at the home of socially prominent Mrs. Jayne Perley-Robertson.

SENT TO AG

The chief told reporters then that he would hold a press conference Tuesday. But Tuesday he said he will not discuss the case until Attorney-General Georges Lapalme of Quebec is aware of all details.

The chief said the entire file has been sent to Mr. Lapalme and that there will be no further statements on the case until the attorney-general has studied the file.

'UP TO HIM'

"It's up to him whether or not any charges will be laid," said the chief.

Asked if the QPP has taken over the case, Chief Maheux said:

"Well, yes, I guess so."

Fleming was wounded in the chest by a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun loaded with number four bird shot.

NO QUESTIONS

He was found lying on the floor of the kitchen in Mrs. Perley-Robertson's home where he had been staying, after she and other members of the household had reportedly retired for the night.

Until Monday, doctors had refused to allow police to question the justice minister's son.

Divorce Granted

Picture Wasn't Needed

LONDON (UPI)—Thomas Watson told a divorce court Monday he climbed up a ladder with the aid of his mother and caught his wife in another man's bedroom but forgot to take the cap off the lens of his camera when he tried to snap their picture.

The judge, however, said he

Guilty

Post-debutante Suzanne Clift, 21, member of prominent Boston family which includes actor Montgomery Clift, was permitted to plead guilty yesterday to manslaughter in 1962 shooting of boy friend Piero Breziani, 27, whose child she will bear in four months. She was freed on 10-year probation and must undergo mental treatment. (AP Photofax.)

Courtroom Parade New Pact Broken

A 24-year-old man Tuesday was found guilty in an assault case Magistrate William Oiler said might well never have been brought to court.

"A bloody nose, that's what it amounts to," said the magistrate in Spanish police court. He bound Roger Lindal of 5191 Rambler on his own $100 bond to be of good behavior for six months.

CHARGE OF ASSAULT

Lindal was charged with assault causing actual bodily harm on a complaint by Norman Rebbitt of the Good Shepherd Shelter following an incident Dec. 30 at Rebbitt's then home at 5150 Cordova Bay Road.

"In spite of the defendant's improper conduct it might have been best if the complainant had been magnanimous and big-hearted and forgotten the whole thing," said Magistrate Oiler.

SHOOK HANDS

Testimony showed that between the night of the incident and the time several days later when Rebbitt lodged a formal complaint the two men had shaken hands and agreed to be friends.

It was testified Lindal punched Rebbitt after coming to his house and involving him in an argument about a radio and battery which were missing from Lindal's sister's car.

Two young Victoria men will be sentenced in Sooke magistrate's court Feb. 19 on three charges of breaking, entering and theft.

Robert Hugh Smith, 20, of 306 St. James, and Roland Hill, 23, of 1303 Yates, pleaded guilty in a break-in at Belmont High School in Colwood. They had previously pleaded guilty in break-ins at Sooke Building Supplies and Milne's Landing High School.

Barry Boyes, 18, of Sooke, received a six months' suspended sentence on a $500 bond in Sooke magistrate's court. He was charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency in a case involving liquor.

B and E Electric Ltd.

Sooke, was fined $25 and costs for failing to submit its 1961 income tax return.

Sinking Boat Saved By Speedy Action

Speedy action by city police and fire departments and Island Tug and Barge's Island Comet saved a Victoria fisherman's 25-foot trawler from sinking near the Johnson Street bridge early Tuesday.

Arthur Gahan, 123 Ontario, had left his boat Left Wing moored near the foot of Yates Street. He found it adrift and filling with water just before midnight Monday. He called police who notified the fire department, Island Tug and Barge's tug, Island Comet.

Called to the scene by the fire department, pumped out the trawler.

A spokesman for Island Tug said the water came in through the propeller housing because of a loose gland in the stuffing box.

Judge Ends Bridal Spell

MIAMI (AP)—A judge has upheld Mrs. Claire Peller's claim she was under hypnotic influence when she married Ronald Peller, a night club entertainer, and he defrauded her of $19,342. Peller uses the stage name Dante.

Circuit Judge Ralph Cullen ordered the marriage annulled.

The court also gave her a judgment against Peller for the amount she claimed he took from her, plus interest from May 25, 1962, the date she withdrew her savings from a savings and loan association.

More Sun Today

Victoria's sunny weather is expected to last at least through today, a weather office spokesman said last night, and as yet there is no indication of any big change in the present warm trend. Today's forecast temperatures are about the same as yesterday, with a high of 53 and a low of 46 predicted.

Hickman To Quit Top Job

As a "new era" begins, Victoria University learned yesterday that it is to lose its chief administrator.

Dr. W. H. Hickman, principal since 1951, announced that he would renounce administrative duties in favor of the classroom.

NOT CANDIDATE

"The new university will have to select a president (and) I do not wish to be a candidate for this post," he said.

"I believe that such is in the best interests of the new institution," he said.

NEW START

"It should have the privilege of a new start, new ideas and new blood. The old order should yield to the new."

"I have such faith and interest in the University of Victoria that it is my desire to continue to teach French and to develop honors courses in the department of modern languages of which I shall remain head."

TRENDING GROWTH

During his 11 years as principal Dr. Hickman has guided Victoria College through a period of unparalleled growth.

Enrolments jumped from 120 to 1,849 students; faculty grew from 20 to 130; four-year programs were instituted leading to degrees in arts, science and education; library has expanded from 10,000 to 100,000 volumes; and the first five-year building program on the Gordon Head campus is well under way.

Girl Rejects Free Ride

A motorist hanging around North Ward School made an unsuccessful attempt to lure a five-year-old girl into his car yesterday.

The incident occurred in a lane behind the school as the child was on her way home for lunch after attending morning classes at kindergarten.

Several incidents of suspicious men hanging around the school have been reported recently.

'Glad Day for Navy'

New DE Joins Fleet Saturday

By DON GAIN

A spanking new destroyer-escort, the product of Victoria's two major shipyards, Victoria Machinery Depot and Yarrow Ltd., will join Canada's anti-submarine fleet on Saturday with the commissioning of HMCS Saskatchewan.

"This is a British Columbia ship," Harold Husband, VMD president, told a group of newsmen Tuesday before they took a tour of the ship.

"It will be a sad day for the shipyard and a glad day for the navy," said John Wallace, general manager of Yarrow's

Ltd. "We employed as many as 450 men on this ship."

"The builders will say goodbye on Saturday. The crew will say hello," was commanding officer Cmdr. Mark Mayo's comment.

The crew will go aboard after the ceremony, the commander said, and the Saskatchewan will sail on Monday.

After six weeks of post-commissioning trials to check weapons and radar equipment, the destroyer-escort will move to the east coast, the skipper said.

"We will be based in Halifax," he said, "as part of the NATO commitment. We will return to Victoria in November."

The newest addition to Canada's anti-submarine fleet is named for the Saskatchewan River. She will be the second of six Mackenzie-class destroyer-escorts to join the fleet. Four more are under construction in Canadian shipyards.

Work commenced on the ship at VMD in August, 1959. She was launched Feb. 1, 1961, with Mrs. Rayner, wife of Vice-Admiral H. S. Rayner, chief of naval staff, as sponsor.

Admiral and Mrs. Rayner arrive this afternoon and will take part in the commissioning ceremony Saturday afternoon.

On June 15, 1961, Saskatchewan was moved from VMD to Yarrow where the destroyer-escort was completed and outfitted.

The 2,900-ton ship has a beam of 42 feet and a draught of 13.5 feet. She is 366 feet long and is powered by twin-gear turbines which propel her through the water at a top speed of 26 knots.

Commanding 12 officers and 236 men is Cmdr. Mayo, 39, of Saint John, N.B. He was formerly in charge of operations division of the fleet school in Halifax.

Commissioning ceremony will take place at 2:45 p.m. Saturday at the government jetty adjacent to Naden.

Guest of honor will be federal Minister of Public Works E. Davie Fulton. Cmdr. John Hall, resident naval officer, will be in charge of the introduction.

Addresses will be given by Harold Husband, John Wallace, Admiral Rayner, Mr. Fulton. The ship will be accepted by Commodore S. M. Davis, director general ships, Commissioning service will be conducted by the Rev. C. H. MacLean and the Rev. J. E. Whelly.

Saanich Maps Road Projects

By JACK FREY

A $263,000 road construction program for 1963 was mapped out by Saanich public works committee last night.

Plans call for completion of parts of McKenzie Avenue and Tattersall Drive as major east-west routes across the Saanich Peninsula, and work on a number of other roads.

OUTLAY

Committee recommended council spend $90,000 on construction of McKenzie Avenue from Quadra to Reynolds and $39,000 on Tattersall from Savannah to Calumet.

Saanich is already committed to spend $81,000 on improvement of Foul Bay Road.

A total of $35,100 was earmarked for reconstruction of Vernon Avenue from Saanich Road to the Patricia Bay Highway, Haliburton from the Patricia Bay Highway to Sea Ridge Terrace and Arbutus Road from Finnelly to west of Hollydene.

A sum of $13,000 or less will be needed for completion of an intersection at Blenkinsop and Cedar Hill Cross Road, and $5,000 will be asked for installation of a culvert on McKenzie.

SO MANY

So many roads need work done on them in Saanich that the public works committee headed by Coun. Hugh Curtis had to do a lot of pencil work in order to make a start on the major east-west routes.

Council may still pare some of the proposed work when it completes this year's operating budget, but a planned start on McKenzie and Tattersall was seen as the highlight of the whole 1963 roads program.

Coun. Gregory Cook, who pushed for some start on the cross routes this year, argued that "if we don't get started, how will it ever get done? It will always look too big."

In House Today

Recreation Minister Westwood will make his first speech of the session. He will be followed by Anthony Gargrave (NDP—Mackenzie), Donald Brothers (BC—Rossland-Trail), and Frank Calder (NDP—Atlin).

Civil Defence

New Look Urged

By IAN STREET

Victoria ought to seriously reassess the role played by its civil defence organization, Ald. J. L. W. McLean said yesterday.

"If we don't want to take advantage of the program we have," he told the civil defence committee, "perhaps we ought not to consider it in its present form."

OBJECTIONS

He was commenting on objections raised at the meeting following his suggestion that another 50 city hall employees be sent in working hours to complete a short CD orientation course.

City comptroller James Bramley, one of those who took the first such course for civil employees, just completed, said he had some reservations.

"I found the course very interesting and informative," Mr. Bramley said. "What I learned would, I'm sure be of great help to my family in the event of nuclear attack. But as far as helping the city in my capacity as city treasurer I can't see the benefits."

BUNY SEASON

City manager C. C. Wyatt raised the matter of further employee training at a recent meeting of city hall department heads.

The manager said budget time, busiest season of the year in many departments, was approaching and shortage of available manpower would continue through the summer holiday period.

"That leaves us only three months in the year in which to carry out programs of this nature," Ald. McLean said.

NECESSARY

He added: "We have a coordinator and staff of instructors who are competent and they tell us that this type of training is a necessary part of a meaningful CD program."

"If we are not going to take

Canada in Favor

Ninety-two per cent of Canadians are in favor of general disarmament, with adequate safeguards, Dr. Norman Z. Alcock of the Canadian Peace Research Institute told Victoria Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

The finding came out of the institute's largest project, a study of the general public's attitude toward defence, foreign policy and disarmament, he said.

Other conclusions from the survey are:

- 71 per cent would favor general disarmament even if it meant loss of income or searching for another job.
- 50 per cent of business and labor leaders and members of government think disarmament would cause a recession or depression.
- 41 per cent believe defence forces should be larger.
- 41 per cent believe defence forces are just about right.

The survey was conducted by a professional public opinion company testing all across Canada.

In addition to the survey, Dr. Alcock said the institute had two other projects, the study of the United Nations police force and the building up of a reference system in peace research.

Disarmament Wanted —Alcock

"We are not peace marchers or an action group," Dr. Alcock told The Daily Colonist after his speech. "We are strictly a research group. Any changes toward peace must be implemented by the government."

When asked, at the Kiwanis luncheon, what was the attitude of the four major political parties toward the group, he replied, "Mr. Green sent an observer. To my knowledge, the other parties are interested. We will eventually approach the government to seek financial aid."

He later said that the institute was non-partisan and that the bylaws forbid groups being members.

When asked about the possibility of Communist infiltration, Dr. Alcock told the Colonist that it was impossible because the only members of the institute are on the board of directors. They are Dr. Alcock, Dr. Kenneth E.

"The nature of war has changed in the last 10 to 15 years," Dr. Alcock said in his speech. "Before, it was an acceptable art. One side could win. Now, with the hydrogen bomb and ICBMs, war is a holocaust that would last from 24 to 36 hours. We do have a deterrent that is preventing war but sooner or later it will break out. We no longer can use war to settle differences. Let us find new answers."

"The government is spending $8,000,000,000 on research and development of new weapons. They are spending $8,000,000 looking into alternatives," he said.

"We have no interest in changing human nature," Dr. Alcock told the group. "We have changed our behavior. We don't carry swords and fight in the street any more. Conflicts will still exist but we have to stop violent international conflict."

Bus Depot Needed For City

Growth of the day-tripper coach service from Vancouver points up the need for a central bus depot in Victoria, Ald. J. L. W. McLean said yesterday.

He said it was "quite unsatisfactory" that the coaches should lay over on city streets and in many cases load and unload their passengers at the curb.

"This situation is the best we can achieve at the moment, perhaps, but we should certainly begin looking into the feasibility of a central depot to handle all bus traffic," Ald. McLean said.

The suggestion is to be relayed to the traffic committee for further study.

Boy Turns In Blasting Cap

An eight-year-old boy yesterday turned in a blasting cap he found on a vacant lot near Bayliss Noun, 2519 Rock Bay Avenue.

Police believe the cap may have been the property of a construction company which was working in the area. It was dropped into the water at the Johnson Street Bridge.

Wardens Support Deputy Fire Chief

JOHN F. ABBOTT

The fire wardens committee yesterday agreed to recommend appointment of deputy chief John F. Abbott to the position of fire chief which falls vacant March 31.

Fire Chief James Bayliss retires on his 60th birthday which falls on that date.

The chief said in a letter to the fire wardens committee that an early decision on his replacement would assist in the "promotions in all ranks (that) will follow."

Mr. Abbott has filled the deputy's job since July, 1961.

"His firefighting abilities are unquestioned and his administrative abilities are such that I do not hesitate to recommend him for the position," Chief Bayliss said.

City manager C. C. Wyatt said he concurred in the chief's recommendation.

The final decision on the appointment will be up to city council when it considers the fire wardens recommendation, probably this Thursday.

PIONEER CLUB

Pioneer Club of the Women's Benefit Association, Review No. 1, will meet at the home of Mrs. L. Longden, 1416 Denman Street, on Friday, Feb. 15, at 2:30 p.m.

From Jacob Crawley of Winnipeg, for the National Collection of Union Label fashions, the golden-brown beauty of camel hair is styled into a three-piece town and country ensemble. Under a new body-conscious, two-third length coat, there is a short-sleeved jewel-necked, wool overblouse and a slim kick-pleat walking skirt in the current mid-knee length.

From Vancouver, for previewing by fashion editors from coast to coast at the National Collection of Union Label fashions, Fitwell created an ensemble in precious Blin and Blin wool in a cherry-blossom hue. The looped mid-thigh coat, full A-line flaring, has deep Norwegian fox cuffs, elbow high. The dress, in wool crepe, is sheath slim and uncluttered.

Wedding Reception At Holyrood House

White tulips and stocks were on the altar of St. John's Anglican Church for the recent marriage of Faye Marguerite Fletcher and LS Dennis Stanley Seymour, RCN. Rev. Canon George Biddle officiated for the daughter of Mr. J. M. Fletcher, Victoria and Mrs. M. Fletcher, Vancouver and the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Seymour, Hamilton, Ont.

Mr. Roland Walsh was soloist at the double ring, evening ceremony.

The bride chose a full-length gown of heavy white taffeta, fashioned with basque bodice and hooped skirt. Dainty Guipure lace appliques accentuated the gown. A coronet of beads and seed pearls held her shoulder length veil and her jewelry was a seed pearl and star sapphire necklace, the gift of the groom. She carried white carnations, freesias and garnet roses.

Something old was her maternal great-grandmother's silk and lace handkerchief.

Mrs. Allan Thompson, matron of honor, Miss Linda Kerr, and Miss Mary Ann Wallace, bridesmaids, were in red velvet gowns with softly pleated full skirts and they chose rose-shaped whimsies. They carried white carnations and their jewelry was silver pendants, the gift of the bride.

Mr. Allan Thompson was best man and Mr. Fred Keizer and Mr. Mike Zimmerman ushered guests to the pews.

A three-tiered wedding cake was cut at the reception held at Holyrood House. Freesias and carnations decorated the cake and the guests' tables. Mr. Harold Johnstone proposed the toast to the bride and Joan O'Neill's orchestra provided music for dancing.

Leaving on a honeymoon to Vancouver, the new Mrs. Seymour changed to a coral toned double knit suit, with black sequin pill-box hat and black accessories. White orchids and freesias were in her corsage.

Sunshine Camp Main Project

The cottage at Sunshine Camp, Sooke, is still the main project of the Esquimalt Chapter, IOOE. The Chapter built the cottage in 1931 and has kept it up since that time. The sum of $40.66 was spent this year on paint and new curtains. This was reported on Monday night at the annual meeting, held at the Old Esquimalt Road home of Mrs. A. G. Fulmer.

It was noted that total receipts for the past year were $905 and disbursements were $905. A total of $135 was spent on education and $140 was spent by services at home and abroad.

Main money raising projects were teas, coffee parties and luncheons.

Mrs. A. W. Smith was re-elected regent of the Chapter, other officers are: Mrs. J. Bryant, first vice-regent; Mrs. J. T. Jones, second vice-regent; Mrs. A. G. Fulmer, secretary; Mrs. V. Green, treasurer; Mrs. N. E. Bryon, educational secretary; Mrs. A. Weightman, Echoes secretary; Mrs. A. Hatch, standard bearer; Mrs. J. A. Brown, services at home and abroad and Mrs. J. T. Evans, press.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: There seems to be a good deal of divided opinion on the meaning of dreams. Some people say dreams have no significance—that they are jumbled, unrelated thoughts which flash through a person's mind for no explainable reason. Others say dreams are the key to our innermost desires—desires we won't even admit to ourselves.

My husband is a great dreamer. He is also a pretty good talker—along with the dreams. I'd like to know whether a person dreams about things which have already happened. If this is true the old husband has plenty of explaining to do. On second thought, I can't figure out when he would find the time or energy for all the high-jinks. Please set me straight, Ann. I'd hate to blow my top for no good reason. — THE OLD GREY MARE

Dear Mare: People do dream about things which have happened. And then again, some people dream about things they WISH would happen. I don't know if this will help you feel better or worse.

All dreams have some significance, but figuring out the real meaning of dreams requires a trained specialist.

Dear Ann Landers: Aren't teenagers difficult enough to handle without you getting into the act and taking their side against their parents?

Plans Made For Shower Of Dimes

At a recent meeting of the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League, Miss Marjorie Gibbs, general convener, reported on progress being made with the planning of the 1963 "Shower of Dimes," which begins May 1.

Co-conveners of the mail campaign are Miss Joy Brutell and Mrs. A. McNair. The Bay Day event is being convened by Mrs. S. Curtis and Mrs. M. Squire and Tag Day by Mrs. D. Eade, with co-conveners, Mrs. M. Allum and Mrs. D. MacKay.

Miss Margaret Nicholson, assisted by Miss Jean Carmichael and Mrs. B. Dillon are in charge of the umbrella containers. Small umbrella convener is Mrs. V. Gibson, with co-conveners, Mrs. J. McPherson and Miss F. Couch. Mrs. M. Breth and Mrs. S. Newnam are in charge of the Junior League float in the May 24 parade.

Mrs. Lynch Heads Club

At the annual elections held by St. Louis College Mothers' Club, the following officers were elected: Mrs. E. Lynch, president; Mrs. T. Yalloway, first vice-president; Mrs. D. Baines, second vice-president; Mrs. J. Jickling, recording secretary; Mrs. K. Kinsinger, treasurer; Mrs. G. King, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. Griffing, Mrs. G. Dolron, Mrs. E. Troughton and Mrs. B. Brown were elected councillors. Past president, Mrs. A. Scurrah, was thanked for her year's work and was presented with a small gift.

Bride Carries Roses

Winifred Evelyn Reid and Mr. Richard Lawrence Sifert exchanged vows recently in Esquimalt United Church. Rev. Howard G. Turpin officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Parents of the principals are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reid, Lampson Street, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sifert, Edmonton, Alta.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of white chantilly lace, styled with scalloped neckline and long sleeves. Her waist-length bouffant veil was held by a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of deep pink roses.

Miss Sandra Reid, bridesmaid, and Miss Heather Reid, junior bridesmaid, the bride's sisters, were gownned alike in turquoise dresses, fashioned with ballerina-length skirts and beauteous bodices with flowing back panels. They carried pale pink carnations.

Mr. Bob Bradbury was best man and Mr. Brian Prior and Mr. Lorne Scott were ushers. At the reception held at Esquimalt Legion Hall, Mr. Robert Huddleston proposed the toast to the bride.

Leaving on a honeymoon to Edmonton, the bride changed to a two-piece double-knit pink suit, with black and pink accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sifert will make their home at 510 Paradise Street.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Doris Kautz, sister of the groom, Mrs. Irene Berg, Edmonton, Alta., and Miss Lois Walker of Vancouver.

Dear Ann Landers: I was amused by the letter from the mother who was concerned because her son was nicknamed "Runt." She was worried that it might interfere with his chances for a dignified legal career. You told her not to worry—that a guy named "Whizzer" did all right.

Frankly, I think the mother must be off her rocker. An unusual nick-name can be a tremendous asset. It sticks in people's minds. A politician in Southern Illinois was recently re-elected. His name appeared on the ballot as follows: "Runt" Bishop.

Thought you'd like to know—HARRY A.
Dear Harry: Thanks for the clue-in. And congratulations, Runt.

Recognition Given

Reds Clamoring To Leave Iraq

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—day) have been arrested. The East European Communists, who swarmed into Iraq during Abdel Karim Kassem's dictatorship, are reported clamoring to get out of the country under harassment by the revolutionary council that is killing home-grown Communists.

Whatever the implications, Red China Tuesday joined more than a dozen other powers in recognizing the new regime. The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union extended recognition Monday.

CRACKING DOWN

Gunter Stocker, a West German businessman, said the Iraqis have begun cracking down on East European Communists who entered along with the millions of dollars worth of arms that Kassem bought from the Soviet Union.

Stocker, who arrived by a Lebanese airliner from Baghdad, said:

"They are treating the West-erners excellently, but for people from the Eastern European communist countries it is a very different thing."

"I was told that so far three East German military advisers attached to the army under Kassem (who was executed Saturday) have been arrested. The East Europeans are trying to get out of the country."

Stocker reported that, in the new regime's continuing effort to wipe out domestic opposition, "four more Communists were executed this morning."

Another West German, Kurt Gartner of Lufthansa Airlines, told reporters Iraqi troops pulled down hundreds of portraits of the Kassem and also ordered withdrawal of photographs of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Iraq's new president, Abdel Salam Aref, that had been put up since the revolt Friday.

AVOIDING CULT

"They seem to be trying to avoid the personality cult that Kassem created," Gartner said.

Informed, political sources here said there are increasing signs that Aref, an admirer of Nasser who was named chief executive by rebel officers, is a relatively powerless figurehead.

Heavy fighting apparently persisted in the oil port of Basra on the Shatt Al Arab River.

A traveller arriving in Tehran reported troops fired on pro-Kassem demonstrators in Basra streets Monday and 250 persons were killed.

Plastic Death Toll 'Shocking' in B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—One-third of the 10 babies who suffocated in plastic materials in Canada last year were in British Columbia, the B.C. Safety Council's home and family section was told Tuesday.

"We find it shocking that of 10 such deaths, six were in B.C.," said Mrs. A. A. Boucher, chairman of the section. "The children were from five weeks to 16 months."

Island Jersey Cows Among Nation's Best

Two Vancouver Island Jersey cows were among the Jersey class production leaders for January, the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club announced Tuesday.

Koksalah Supreme Peggy, owned by Koksalah Farms, Koksalah, produced 12,132 pounds of milk and 697 pounds of fat in 305 days.

Arrowsmith Butterking Serene, owner by Arrowsmith Farms, Qualicum, produced 7,714 pounds of milk and 442 pounds of fat in 305 days.

Ton of Gold certificates were awarded to two cows owned by R. L. Mutrie, Saanichton, and one owned by M. M. Moir, of Duncan.

Army Quits Police Duty

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union claimed Tuesday it no longer needs military forces to keep its citizens in order.

The defence ministry newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star) said Soviet armed forces are maintained solely as protection against "the imperialist powers."

Fire Rages Aboard Ship

THE HAGUE (Reuters)—Fire was raging aboard the 5,483-ton Finnish vessel Alca Tuesday after she collided with the 10,810-ton Swedish ore-carrying Avafors in the Wester Scheldt, near Antwerp, Belgium. It was reported here.

The reports said the Alca had called for a doctor.

The Wester Scheldt is a river which links Antwerp with the North Sea.

Well Gulps Car Five Perish

TEL AVIV (AP)—Five Israeli soldiers were killed and a sixth seriously injured Tuesday when the ground collapsed under an army command car during a sandstorm and sent it to the bottom of an abandoned well 50 feet deep.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Advt.

$280,000 Stolen

AMSTERDAM (Reuters) — KLM Royal Dutch Airlines said early today that currency worth about $280,000 had been stolen at nearby Schiphol Airport from one of its planes arriving from Johannesburg, South Africa.

The stolen money was part of a consignment amounting to nearly $1,000,000.

Nineteen Face Murder Charges

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (CP)—Warrants charging non-capital murder were sworn Tuesday night against 19 men and police began laying riot charges against another 400 as the sequel to a clash in the northern bush Monday that left three men fatally shot.

The wholesale roundup—aftermath of strife between striking bushworkers and independent log-cutters settlers—was the greatest array of murder and riot charges in Canadian history.

Up until 10 p.m. EST, none of those charged had been brought into Kapuskasing, but scores of Ontario Provincial Police had fanned out into the bush country to serve the warrants.

5000 RAIL

Chief Inspector H. H. Graham, head of the OPP's criminal investigation branch, announced the charges less than 24 hours after the 19 settlers had been charged with shooting with intent to wound and released on $500 bail.

The more serious charges were ordered after Attorney-General Fred Cass Tuesday sent Crown Attorney E. A. Caldwell here from Timmins to confer with the police. His assistant, W. R. DuPont, of Cochrane, had authorized the earlier charges.

ON STRIKE

No charges had been laid previously against the approximately 400 members of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union (CLC) who took part in Monday's early morning clash at Reesor siding, 37 miles west of here.

The union of bushworkers had been on strike since Jan. 14 against the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company, which operates a newsprint plant here, and which buys some of its pulpwood independently from settlers in the wooded area around Kapuskasing.

ARMED MEN

The Reesor siding outbreak developed when a crowd of union men approached a millers' stockpile of pulpwood guarded by armed men.

Chief Inspector Graham said Tuesday the new warrants for the two groups will be issued starting immediately but might take considerable time to complete because of the large number.

NOT DROPPED

The original charges of shooting with intent to wound against the settlers are not being dropped, the officer said. The rioting charges call for a maximum penalty of two years in penitentiary.

Specifically, the allegation is that of "unlawful assembly of persons who have begun to disturb the peace tumultuously."

Chief Inspector Graham said it is planned to bring the new groups of arrested men into court later.

Witch Hunt Out

University professors who don't believe in God won't be fired by B.C.'s Social Credit government. Education Minister Leslie Peterson told the legislature yesterday.

He said that as long as he is administering the education portfolio in B.C. there will be no interference in academic freedom.

He was obviously referring to the case of UBC's Prof. Peter Remnant who told a meeting of the university's philosophy club last year that he didn't believe in God.

To calls of "witch-hunt" from NDP benches two Social Crediters earlier this session deplored the thought of having a non-believer on the public payroll. They were Deputy Speaker Alex Mathew (SC—Vancouver Centre) and Tom Bate (SC—Vancouver Point Grey).

Mr. Peterson said that all hiring and firing is done by the university and has nothing to do with him.

College Formula

'TOO RICH FOR B.C.'

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

The Macdonald formula for higher education is too rich for B.C.'s purse.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson told the legislature yesterday it could only be implemented under two conditions:

● If B.C. experienced a phenomenal economic boom.

● And then only if the federal government introduced a radical increase in its contributions for universities.

Dr. John Macdonald, new UBC president, recently proposed a drastic boost in university spending plus a system of regional colleges throughout B.C.

Within eight years, he estimated, operating costs would increase $111,000,000 a year and capital costs $20,000,000.

Mr. Peterson told the House the province couldn't raise such funds unless the B.C. labor force jumped to 700,000 (from 580,000 last year) and a tax of $185 a year for higher education was imposed on every worker.

The money required for the program would almost equal 1960 spending for all levels of education in B.C.

Even if the boom hit and the labor force expanded, Mr. Peterson continued, it could still only be met "if the federal government radically increases its contribution to higher education."

Most of all, he continued, in any case, the federal government should bear most, if not all, of the cost of higher education.

"At the very least they should bear the full costs of government grants for graduate studies and professional education."

The program of the "education revolution" will be seriously jeopardized unless "the federal government is prepared to come forward with a new and enlightened approach to the problem of financing higher education," he stated.

ARGUMENTS

There were good arguments for higher education becoming a federal responsibility. He said graduates know no provincial boundaries in the application of their knowledge, and Canada's future as a nation depended upon the number of highly educated men it produced.

Medicare Coming to B.C. —If Ottawa Pays Half

Jeers and laughter flowed from NDP benches as Education Minister Peterson made the government's anxiously-awaited medicare policy statement. See Page 13.

"You've moved backward with vigor," called Opposition Leader Robert Strachan.

AVOID TRAGEDY

Mr. Peterson said the government is determined to "avoid the tragic situation that developed in Saskatchewan."

He said B.C. was the first province to propose a comprehensive national health plan at a federal-provincial conference in 1955 and that it "was not too well received."

But now, he continued, "it is our belief that early action can be expected from Ottawa regardless of what party is in office after the next election."

As soon as the April 8 federal election is over the B.C. government would ask for a special federal-provincial conference on a national health plan which would include comprehensive medical coverage.

He said the Saskatchewan medicare program was chaotic "and divided brother from sister."

"That will never happen in this province as long as we are the government."

He said that if B.C. moved into medicare itself its taxpayers might eventually be penalized when Ottawa does move into a national health plan.

The government, he stated, is opposed to further increase in taxation and could participate in a national scheme without it.

Polaris Bases Hard to Find

ROME (AP) — The United States was reported Tuesday night encountering political problems in finding a Polaris missile submarine base in Spain or Italy.

But an American source said Washington is going ahead with plans to station three Polaris subs in the Mediterranean starting April 1.

RUN PATROLS

The source said the three will run long-distance patrols out of Holy Loch, Scotland, until a Mediterranean base is found.

Premier Fanfani's Italian government faces a general election in late April or early May and is eager to go to the voters with an Italy free of U.S. missile bases. Jupiter land-based missiles are being withdrawn from Italy.

Gen. Franco de Spain is said to be demanding admission to NATO as his price for permitting use of the base at Rota, Spain.

TARGET DATE

The U.S. deputy defence secretary, Roswell Gilpatrick, discussed the Polaris problem with Fanfani and Defence Minister Giulio Andreotti. The source said Gilpatrick told the Italian government he would maintain April 1 as the target date for closing Jupiter missile bases in Italy and Turkey, with the Polaris subs taking the place of the Jupiters in NATO defence lines.

Yemen Ousts British Envoy

LONDON (Reuters) — Yemen has told Britain to remove her diplomatic mission from the Red Sea republic within seven days, a foreign office spokesman said Tuesday. The Yemeni republican government had frequently threatened Britain would be asked to remove her diplomats if she did not recognize the new government which took power from the royalists in a coup last September.

45 Believed Dead Airliner Plunges Into Everglades

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Miami to Chicago jet airliner carrying 43 persons crashed and burned Tuesday in south Florida's everglades wilderness shortly after takeoff in a vicious squall.

The U.S. Coast Guard reported all aboard apparently were killed.

"The fuselage is busted up," said Lt. Cmdr. James Dillon, one of two helicopter pilots who found and explored the wreck.

BADLY BURNED

"It's been consumed by fire. Badly burned—gutted."

"There were two fires burning. From the air, they looked like bonfires. The tail was broken off. Other major components were scattered around."

Dillon's co-pilot, Lt. Cmdr. James Wallace, reported seeing at least one body intact.

SEARCH IN DARK

Swamp buggies and other special vehicles lunched toward the pitch-dark crash scene — about 15 miles from the nearest road — where the Northwest Orient Airlines plane, missing 6½ hours was found by coast guard officers in a helicopter that was part of a search armada crisscrossing the southeast.

USE FLASHLIGHTS

The coast guard officers landed and explored the area with flashlights.

The plane was a Boeing 720-B jet capable of carrying 165 passengers. Aboard were 35 passengers and a crew of eight.

Dillon and Wallace said it looked as if the airliner pilot had attempted an emergency landing. There was no immediate sign of an explosion.

Crashes in Field

Flight Over Falls Fatal to Four

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) — Four men on a pleasure flight over Niagara Falls died Tuesday when their single engine plane crashed into a snow-covered field near the Niagara Parkway.

The men, all from Niagara Falls, N.Y., had taken off only 15 minutes earlier from the St. Catharines, Ont., Flying Club for an aerial view of the falls.

Dead are Theodore Stevens, 28, a native of Winnipeg, and three Americans, John Barclay, 21, Robert Dutko, 26, and James Dowling, 20. All were employed as technicians in the electro-minerals division of the Carborundum Company.

The plane dug a three-foot crater in the frozen ground and wreckage was scattered over a 100-foot circle.

Stevens, who received his licence in Winnipeg, piloted the plane, a red and white Piper Tri-Pacer owned by the St. Catharines Flying Club.

Oral Vaccine Ban Baffles Whitbread

Dissatisfied with "unexplained opposition" to the use of oral polio vaccine for primary protection, a senior public health official in Victoria says he will rebel.

"One wonders, have we been told the whole truth," Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread, senior medical health officer of the Metropolitan Board of Health, said last night.

"I personally think that the Sabin oral vaccine could be used for primary vaccinations as it had been used previously."

Use of the Salk vaccine, which requires an injection for each dose, has been recommended by the National Department of Health. It has also recommended that the Sabin vaccine be limited to "booster" doses for persons who have already had the Salk vaccine.

"So far I have not been given any reason why the oral vaccine should not be used."

"I don't understand why it should not be used as a primary vaccine for the population as a whole, why we don't do a blitz vaccination with it."

Dr. Whitbread said he will put his views before a meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health in August or September which will lay plans for the annual polio vaccination. "I personally think there is no reason why it should not be used as it was used before."

"Why is it only being kept to booster doses?"

Victoria Social Credit MLA Waldo Skillings yesterday told the legislature that the financial company he works for was involved in last summer's "carefully laid plan" to embarrass the B.C. government.

He has been, and still is, employed by Great West Life Assurance Co.

Speaking in the budget debate he said, "I have been employed with one of Canada's largest financial institutions."

"Probably no one in this House came under greater pressure than I did."

"I am talking about pressure from above. I will mention no names, but I got plenty."

"It seems strange to me that one of the largest financial institutions should, during that period of time, have no money to place in B.C."

"But they had millions for Alberta, Saskatchewan and other provinces at the same time."

WALDO SKILLINGS
... no money for B.C.

articles by John De Wolf in the Vancouver Province. The articles and the paper have been a daily target for government speakers since the session started.

"Do you think he didn't have an axe to grind?"

"I would be the last one to suggest he had been paid to write them because I don't think that would be fair."

He said that some MLA's had come to the defence of the press but he didn't think it was necessary. He said reporters did a fine job.

"I will tell you where the trouble is—the trouble is at the top."

"The great trouble with the press is that they have publishers and financiers who control them and who are troubled with megalomania. I can name two who think they are little kingmakers."

NDP benches rang with cries of "name them, name them."

"Stu Keate and Don Crombie," he said, naming respectively the publishers of the Victoria Times and Vancouver Sun.

"Oh, oh, you're gone," cried out one opposition member.

"Goodbye, Waldo," shouted Tony Gar-

City MLA Soul Of Brevity

Victoria's Sacred Waldo Skillings yesterday appealed to fellow MLAs to cut short their speeches, then he set them an example.

In 21 minutes he disposed of the budget, last summer's financial crisis, the "plot" against the provincial government's party bonds, the press, the Liberals and the NDP.

It tied in length with the speech of Dr. Patrick McGeer (L—Vancouver-Point Grey) for the shortest this session.

Mr. Skillings said private members should speak for not more than 60 minutes in either the throne speech or budget debates but not in both. Cabinet ministers shouldn't speak in either but could have a whole hour on their own departmental estimates.

Olympic Plan in Gear

By JIM TANG

About next Christmas, if plans work out, Vancouver will get the chance to see Canada's 1964 Olympic hockey team play against a touring Swedish club. What about 800 fans saw at Esquimalt Municipal Centre last night was only the embryo of an idea formulated in the imaginative mind of Father David Bauer, who is to assemble and coach the team which will try for the Olympic gold medal.

... good idea

Father Bauer, brother of Bobby Bauer of Boston Bruins, once-coach of the St. Michael's College team when it won the Memorial Cup in 1961, suggested only last year that assembling the best talent in Canadian universities might just be the best plan for an Olympic team.

AT UBC

Perhaps surprisingly, Canadian Amateur Hockey Association officials found the plan favorable and acted on it at once. Father Bauer was at University of British Columbia, and it was there that the next Canadian Olympic hockey team started to take shape.

Perhaps no more than four of the players on the club which easily handed Esquimalt all-stars a 2-2 defeat will be on the Canadian Olympic team, but Father Bauer's club as it stands should have convinced doubters that his idea has merit.

Even without defenseman Terry O'Malley and goalkeeper Ken Broderick, two players who have every chance to be there when the final selections are made, the UBC team looked good enough to give backing to Father Bauer's contention that it could play with honor in any junior hockey league in Canada.

There was more than a trace of the expected good coaching and there was no doubting but that considerable of the dedication and enthusiasm of Father Bauer has rubbed off on his charges.

SOME TALENT

And there was also some pretty fair hockey talent on display, including in Barry McKenna, a raw-boned defenseman who played for Father Bauer's 1961 junior champions, a player who would now be an asset to any Western Hockey League club and who surely has a chance for a career in the National Hockey League (with Toronto Maple Leafs) when his Olympic bid is over.

CUP THREAT

Esquimalt's all-stars, who could be a Coy Cup threat, put up a good game but only Cliff Kemp could beat the defence which Father Bauer rates as the strength of his club.

Kemp got both Esquimalt goals. His first was the first of the game, and it may have been a mistake. In any event, it spurred the UBC team to quick retaliation and it came back with two quick goals and held control the rest of the way. It was 3-1 after one period and 6-2 after two.

Dave Chambers led the winners with two goals and three assists. Stu Gibbs had two goals and two assists. Peter Kelly and Bob Parker, two goals each and Garry Morris a goal and an assist.

Bucyk Leading Scoring Derby; Bruins Win, 6-3

BOSTON (CP)—Johnny Bucyk and Jerry Toppazzini each scored twice Tuesday night to lead Boston Bruins to a 6-3 victory over New York Rangers in a National Hockey League game.

Bucyk's two goals and one assist again put him in front in the NHL scoring race with 24

The six goals equalled the Bruins' single game goal production high for the season. And Toppazzini led what would have been a third goal for him when he put the puck in the net in the third period only to have the goal disallowed.

Bucyk's assist came on wingman Tommy Williams' 28th goal, which put the Bruins in front by three early in the final frame. Centre Murray Oliver had three assists for the night and the line of Oliver-Bucyk-Williams skated off with seven points.

Bucyk's goals came in the first period after rookie Len Ruskoch sent the Rangers ahead 1-0.

Former Bruin Don McKenney, wrapped for Dean Prentice a week ago, tied it for New York before the period had ended. But the Bruins went ahead 4-3 in the middle period on Toppazzini's first score of the night, and a nifty goal by Guy Gendron, following New York rookie Jim Neilson's goal on a power play.

Gendron's 17th came on a whirling backhand shot. Toppazzini's second of the night, and 16th of the season, was recorded with Boston a player short.

High-Rise

Nanaimo Hearing Feb. 25

NANAIMO — The bylaw permitting construction of high-rise buildings in the downtown area was given its third reading at city council meeting.

There will be a public hearing Feb. 25. The erection of a 14-floor reinforced concrete apartment building on the corner of Front Street and Comox Road by F. M. McGregor Associates hinges on the outcome of this meeting. It has already been approved by city council and the advisory planning board.

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau requested $1,700 from city council as their assessment from this area for the promotion of the tourist industry on Vancouver Island. The request was referred to the finance committee.

City council will attend a meeting of the advisory planning commission Feb. 19 at 8 p.m. to hear the report of Mary Rawson, who has been making a planning study of the area in the vicinity of the Nanaimo Regional Hospital.

Nanaimo Realty Ltd. applied for a rezoning for multiple residential use and this request was referred to the advisory planning committee by the council.

Although the city council was "sympathetic," it refused the request of the Old Age Pensioners that persons over 70 years of age be exempt from paying school taxes.

60 Workers On Strike At Texada

VANCOUVER (CP)—About 60 men are on strike at the Inspiration Mining Company property on Texada Island, 50 miles north of here.

The strike began Monday following nine months of negotiations to establish a first contract with the company, which is doing development work on a new shaft for Texada Mines Ltd.

'Glad Day for Navy'

By DON GAIN

A spanking new destroyer-escort, the product of Victoria's two major shipyards, Victoria Machinery Depot and Yarrow Ltd., will join Canada's anti-submarine fleet on Saturday with the commissioning of HMCS Saskatchewan.

"This is a British Columbia ship," Harold Husband, VMD president, told a group of newsmen Tuesday before they took a tour of the ship.

"It will be a sad day for the shipyard and a glad day for the navy," said John Wallace, general manager of Yarrow's

Ltd. "We employed as many as 450 men on this ship."

"The builders will say goodbye on Saturday. The crew will say hello," was commanding officer Cmdr. Mark Mayo's comment.

The crew will go aboard after the ceremony, the commander said, and the Saskatchewan will sail on Monday.

After six weeks of post-commissioning trials to check weapons and radar equipment, the destroyer-escort will move to the east coast, the skipper said.

"We will be based in Halifax," he said, "as part of the NATO commitment. We will return to Victoria in November."

The newest addition to Canada's anti-submarine fleet is named for the Saskatchewan River. She will be the second of six Mackenzie-class destroyer-escorts to join the fleet. Four more are under construction in Canadian shipyards.

Work commenced on the ship at VMD in August, 1959. She was launched Feb. 1, 1961 with Mrs. Rayner, wife of Vice-Admiral H. S. Rayner, chief of naval staff, as sponsor.

Admiral and Mrs. Rayner arrive this afternoon and will take part in the commissioning ceremony Saturday afternoon.

On June 15, 1961, Saskatchewan was moved from VMD to Yarrow where the destroyer-escort was completed and outfitted.

The 2,900-ton ship has a beam of 42 feet and a draught of 13.5 feet. She is 366 feet long and is powered by twin-gear turbines which propel her through the water at a top speed of 26 knots.

Commanding 12 officers and 236 men is Cmdr. Mayo, 39, of Saint John, N.B. He was formerly in charge of operations division of the fleet school in Halifax.

Commissioning ceremony will take place at 2:45 p.m. Saturday at the government jetty adjacent to Naden.

Guest of honor will be federal Minister of Public Works E. Davis Fulton, Cmdr. John Hall, resident naval officer, will be in charge of the introduction.

Addresses will be given by Harold Husband, John Wallace, Admiral Rayner, Mr. Fulton. The ship will be accepted by Commodore S. M. Davis, director general ships. Commissioning service will be conducted by the Rev. C. H. MacLean and the Rev. J. E. Whelly.

Jordon Scores Fire Watchers

Trio on Probation

DUNCAN—Three juveniles were placed on three-month probation here after they pleaded guilty to breaking and entering a private residence and stealing liquor and cigarettes.

School Costs Rising Sharply

PORT ALBERNI—It appears as though the stops have been pulled as far as expenditures by school boards are concerned," Mayor Loran Jordon said at council meeting after District 70's budget was presented.

He commented that the local budget, of $2,044,766, is up 15 per cent over last year.

DEPLORES TREND

"The city has never increased its budget to that extent. All over B.C. you see the same trend," he deplored the possibility of school boards being successful in application to the legislature to have councils' approval circumvented in the matter of school district budgets.

"That will be a sorry day when curbs are removed," the mayor declared.

Civic Staff Wins Boost

NANAIMO — Civic employees have been awarded a four-per-cent across-the-board increase as a result of negotiations with the city council labor relations committee. Baking and senior firemen also got the increase.

Duncan Boy Winner

DUNCAN — This year's Adventure in Citizenship Rotary Club speech contest was won by Wolfgang Schamberger. He is a student of the Cowichan Senior Secondary School and will travel to Ottawa to be hosted by Rotarians of that city. All expenses will be paid by the Duncan unit. Wolfgang's topic was The Problem of Alcohol and the Minor.

The contest here was judged by Sidney Rotarians Tom Bradley, Peter Drummond and Victor Dawson. Other contestants in the 4th annual competition were Sally Crawford, Strathcona Lodge School; Christopher Davidson, Shawnigan Lake Boys' School; Jane Henly-Lewis, Cowichan Senior Secondary School; Gerry Schofield, Brentwood College; and Sally Barker, Salt Spring Elementary Secondary School.

PORT ALBERNI—People "swarmed like locusts" in the area when fire struck Pitts' Automotive Building Friday night, Mayor Loran Jordon said. He called for a plan to keep crowds away from future fire-fighting operations.

The mayor described the "spectacle" of people and cars jamming the area. "Firemen could have been hurt or killed and an ambulance couldn't have come within 500 yards of the scene," he said.

SOMETHING WRONG

"There's something wrong with people who come swarming around just to see someone else's misfortune," he declared. He said that police had to fight their way to the scene.

It was suggested that during fires the local radio station could broadcast the fact that it is against the law to approach within 500 feet of the scene, but it was felt that this would promote curiosity and attract larger crowds.

SEVEN BLOCKS

During discussion it was mentioned that one fireman could not get his car closer than Tenth Avenue and had to run almost seven blocks to the fire. Cars were parked solidly along Rogers Street and on both sides of Sixth Avenue. One car brushed a police car as the driver attempted to get closer to the fire. Hoses were run over by a number of cars.

Welfare Hit For Slow Aid

DUNCAN—The local branch of the social welfare department was criticized by Ald. Robert Mason for slow service to a destitute family of three at the Riverside Auto Court during the recent cold spell.

Ald. Mason told council at a recent meeting as a member of a local organization he received a letter from a desperate father who, with his wife and three-year-old child, were without food, heat and money.

The alderman said he went to the social welfare officer here on a Friday and was advised by a clerk he could not apply for assistance for the family but the man had to come himself.

Ald. Mason said he was told that the father could come on the following Wednesday for an interview as the responsible official was not available.

"That was the only help I could get from the welfare at that point," he stated. The alderman said members of one of the local organizations went to the camp and found the man, his wife and the small child wrapped in blankets in the 12-foot trailer.

The immediate help from the organization provided the family with heat, cooking utensils and food.

The manager of the local social welfare branch said the unidentified client was first registered as a single man last Dec. 21 and was paid the appropriate assistance. During the first week of January he again received welfare money for the current month.

The welfare official said the client married Jan. 9 but not until Feb. 1 did he change his marital status at the office.

The welfare spokesman said as soon as it was learned the man was married and had a child from a previous marriage the amount of the assistance was raised accordingly.

At Duncan

Highway Crown 'Too High'

DUNCAN — City council at its last meeting gave moral support to a petition of Duncan taxpayers requesting the department of highways to improve and reconstruct the Trans-Canada Highway through the city.

The petition was sent to Highways Minister Philip Gagliardi and Robert Strachan, M.L.A.

Members of the Duncan Taxpayers' Association complain the crown of the highway is too high and should be lowered to the same level as the cement sidewalks.

The ratepayers contend the sloping highway at the business section makes it hard for motorists to return to the highway during the winter months. The reconstruction is also necessary to control heavy precipitation at this point, they say.

CYCLISTS

Another request from the same ratepayers was referred to the local police department. It calls for curbing irresponsible bicycle riders using sidewalks without regard for pedestrians. In a letter to council it was noted an elderly man had been knocked off a sidewalk by a boy on a bicycle.

Local B.C. Hydro Authority manager Allan Vansacker told council that everything possible is done to guarantee the continuity of power for the city water pumping station. Mr. Vansacker said, "Service to your pumping plant, which is also in the general area of the hospital, would always receive first consideration."

NO RECORD

"Other than a planned outage for repairs or system improvements, we have no record of an accidental interruption to your pumping plant over the last five years."

Application from a Vancouver firm to establish a billboard-type tour map for this district will be studied by the street committee. A similar request from the same company last year was turned down by the council as it was feared the map would be allowed to deteriorate.

'BEST MATERIAL'

In a letter it was explained to the council the map would be a "definite tourist attraction" property cared for at all times. The company stated, "The construction of the map is of finest material and erected to withstand adverse weather conditions."

The city of Duncan public works committee was advised to investigate sidewalk repair on Wharfedale Road and if it is replaced it will be constructed in concrete.

The council was asked to give consideration to grants to the local SPCA and to the Cowichan Exhibition Board. In the latter request, president of the board Miss Mary Waldon asked for an annual grant of $500.

Assessments Grow At 'Healthy Rate'

PORT ALBERNI — Assessments in Port Alberni rose by $1,784,196 over those of last year, according to a report from assessor Joe Rulisen.

In his report, he stated that a start was made on reassessment of improvements using the new manual from the assessment commissioner's office as a guide.

The manual is based on actual values and, Mr. Rulisen stated, this guide was used in reassessing land and improvements in the area taken in by extension of boundaries. He said several studies on land assessments were made throughout the city to insure that assessments in the municipality bear a fair and equitable relationship and fairly represent actual values.

With this year's assessments totalling $64,753,766 on land and improvements, taxable total is $49,571,973 as compared with $48,217,252 in 1962.

CITY GROWING

Mr. Rulisen said that he intends to carry on with the improvement reassessment program during this year in order to bring them up to date. Studies on land assessment will be carried on as well.

Ald. J. R. Dalton remarked that the report showed the city was continuing to grow at a healthy rate.

The building inspector's report given during the meeting showed building permits for the month of January totalled $70,745 as compared with $7,350 in January of last year.

Holiday Friday

Up-island students will be enjoying a full day holiday Friday while their teachers work at a convention sponsored by Cowichan District Teachers' Association.

More than 1,000 teachers from Sooke to Qualicum will arrive in Duncan Friday for the two-day convention.

Island Jersey Cows Among Nation's Best

Two Vancouver Island Jersey cows were among the Jersey class production leaders for January, the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club announced Tuesday.

Kokislah Supreme Peggy, owned by Kokislah Farms, Kokislah, produced 12,152 pounds of milk and 697 pounds of fat in 305 days.

Arrowamith Butterking Serene, owned by Arrowamith Farms, Qualicum, produced 7,714 pounds of milk and 423 pounds of fat in 305 days.

Two of Gold certificates were awarded to two cows owned by R. L. Muir, Saanich, and one owned by M. M. Moir of Duncan.

Amalgamation Principles Get Approval

PORT ALBERNI—Councils of the twin cities have agreed in principle to the feasibility of amalgamation, according to a report given to Port Alberni council meeting by the committee of the whole.

A more thorough study by the clerks of two cities has been requested by council to gather further information on administrative, financial and legal problems which might be encountered.

It was decided that, on receipt of reports from Alberni clerk James Sawyer and clerk-comptroller Dennis Thain, Port Alberni, a further meeting will be held with a view to presenting referendums on the question.

LADYSMITH—Several recent donations boosted the funds of the local hospital. The Ladysmith Kinsmen gave eral Hospital Monday at the age of 92.

Born in Denmark, Mr. Peterson came to the U.S.A. at the age of 17. He studied for the ministry at Northwestern Theological College, Evanston, Illinois. Ordained a Methodist minister, he was pastor in many churches across the continent, coming to Vancouver in 1924. For several years he was in charge of the Scandinavian Immigrants' Mission, coming to Port Alberni on his retirement in 1937.

His wife predeceased him in 1950, and he leaves a son, Edwin, in Seattle; a daughter, Mrs. Olive Boe, Port Alberni; 10 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Rev. Richmond will officiate at the service at 2 p.m. Thursday in Elm Tabernacle. Interment will be in the family plot, Alberni Valley Memorial Gardens.

NANAIMO—Latest demonstration by the Judo Club and a film showing the fundamentals of judo, were attended by a good crowd. It was part of a physical fitness program, and the display of callisthenics by 26 junior members of the club as well as the demonstration by instructor Kleu Nemarra and John Murray were applauded.

Ald. John Coe and Bill McGregor were present as representatives of city council. Jeanette Sigamoto, 90 pounds, throwing Max Sieskamp, 200 pounds, to the mat caused a sensation.

DUNCAN—No one was injured in a two-car crash at the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway and Fisher Road, in which police estimated the damage at $350.

Drivers involved were James Milne of Cobble Hill and Douglas Flintoff of Victoria.

ALBERNI—Rites will be held in Stevens Funeral Chapel at 1:30 p.m. today for Terenty Beva, a native of Russia, who had lived in Alberni Valley for 18 years. He was 73 years of age.

He leaves his wife, Melena, at Saimo, B.C., two sons, George and Willard and a daughter, Mrs. Pauline Drinkwater, all of Alberni, and three grandchildren.

Rev. J. D. Verkerk will officiate. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

DUNCAN—Driving with an expired licence cost Maurice Brownell of Ganges Bay $10 in police court. A fine of $14 was assessed against Jack Forsythe of Ladysmith for speeding. Duncan man Richard J. Farrell was fined $15 for speeding. Murphy Johnny of Duncan paid $20 for creating a disturbance.

a total of $1,100 for a blood bank refrigerator and controls for the newly established laboratory. The Ladysmith auxiliary donated $1,800 towards laboratory equipment and from the organized charities fund of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company came $425 towards a lawn mower.

NORTH COWICHAN—January building permits of $34,816 showed a decrease from January, 1962, when the total was $71,030, according to the monthly statement by the municipality.

PORT ALBERNI—Mayor Loran Jordan picked few flaws in the provincial budget when asked at a council meeting to comment as president of the UBCM.

"We were agreeably surprised that the homeownere's grant wasn't raised to $100 and the grant system cancelled," he said. "We are told that there will be more relief on schools, but we still don't know how much. It seems that the municipalities are not going to be hurt as much as we thought."

"I feel pretty happy, personally," the mayor said.

GANGES—Word has been received of the sudden death of Sidney Quinton in Honolulu, where he was on a six-week vacation with Mrs. Quinton and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hawkins.

Funeral services are being held in Winnipeg, Mr. Quinton's former home, and where his two sons and daughter live. Mr. and Mrs. Quinton had made their home at Farmington Point, Salt Spring Island, for the past six years, and where they have a host of friends.

COURTENAY—A coroner's jury ruled here that a collision Nov. 24 which took the lives of two people was caused when a panel truck skidded into the lane of oncoming traffic.

Killed on the Flag Diner curve 15 miles north of Courtenay were Fern Bell and Raymond Redmond, passengers in the car which collided with the panel truck driven by John Allan Cameron, Austin Street, Victoria.

Mr. Cameron told the jury that he did not recall skidding but his passenger, Joseph Emil Coderre, also of Austin Street, said the truck had skidded and he thought the rear wheels were on the white line and the front of the truck pointed toward the side of the road.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back slithering curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Advt.

MURDER COUNT FACING 19 MEN

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (CP)—Warrants charging non-capital murder were sworn Tuesday night against 19 men and police began laying riot charges against another 400 as the sequel to a clash in the northern bush Monday that left three men fatally shot.

The wholesale roundup—aftermath of strife between striking bushworkers and independent log-cutter settlers—was the greatest array of murder and riot charges in Canadian history.

Up until 10 p.m. EST, none of those charged had been brought into Kapuskasing, but scores of Ontario Provincial Police had fanned out into the bush country to serve the warrants.

SEEK RAIL.

Chief Inspector H. H. Graham, head of the OPP's criminal investigation branch, announced the charges less than 24 hours after the 19 settlers had been charged with shooting with intent to wound and released on $500 bail.

The more serious charges were ordered after Attorney General Fred Cass Tuesday sent Crown Attorney S. A. Caldwell here from Timmins to confer with the police. His assistant, W. R. DuPont, of Cochrane, had authorized the earlier charges.

ON STRIKE

No charges had been laid previously against the approximately 400 members of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union (CLC) who took part in Monday's early morning clash at Reesor siding, 37 miles west of here.

The union of bushworkers had been on strike since Jan. 14 against the Spruce Falls Pulp and Paper Company, which operates a newsprint plant here, and which buys some of its pulpwood independently from settlers in the wooded area around Kapuskasing.

ARMED MEN

The Reesor siding outburst developed when a crowd of union men approached a settlers' stockpile of pulpwood guarded by armed men.

NOT DROPPED

The original charges of shooting with intent to wound against the settlers are not being dropped, the officer said. The rioting charges call for a maximum penalty of two years in penitentiary.

Specifically, the allegation is that of "unlawful assembly of persons who have begun to disturb the peace tumultuously."

Chief Inspector Graham said it is planned to bring the new groups of arrested men into

Witch Hunt Out

University professors who don't believe in God won't be fired by B.C.'s Social Credit government. Education Minister Leslie Peterson told the legislature yesterday.

He said that as long as he is administering the education portfolio in B.C. there will be no interference in academic freedom.

He was obviously referring to the case of UBC's Prof. Peter Remnant who told a meeting of the university's philosophy club last year that he didn't believe in God.

To calls of "witch-hunt" from NDP benches two Social Crediters earlier this session deplored the thought of having a non-believer on the public payroll. They were Deputy Speaker Alex Mathew (SC—Vancouver Centre) and Tom Bate (SC—Vancouver Point Grey).

Mr. Peterson said that all hiring and firing is done by the university and has nothing to do with him.

College Formula 'TOO RICH FOR B.C.'

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

The Macdonald formula for higher education is too rich for B.C.'s purse.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson told the legislature yesterday it could only be implemented under two conditions:

● If B.C. experienced a phenomenal economic boom.

● And then only if the federal government introduced a radical increase in its contributions for universities.

Dr. John Macdonald, new UBC president, recently proposed a drastic boost in university spending plus a system of regional colleges throughout B.C.

Within eight years, he estimated, operating costs would increase $111,000,000 a year and capital costs $20,000,000.

Mr. Peterson told the House the province couldn't raise such funds unless the B.C. labor force jumped to 700,000 (from 580,000 last year) and a tax of $185 a year for higher education was imposed on every worker.

The money required for the program would almost equal 1960 spending for all levels of education in B.C.

Even if the boom hit and the labor force expanded, Mr. Peterson continued, it could still only be met "if the federal government radically increases its contribution to higher education."

MOST OR ALL

In any case, he continued, the federal government should bear most, if not all, of the cost of higher education.

"At the very least they should bear the full costs of government grants for graduate studies and professional education."

The progress of the "educational revolution" will be seriously jeopardized unless "the federal government is prepared to come forward with a new and enlightened approach to the problem of financing higher education," he stated.

ARGUMENTS

There were good arguments for higher education becoming a federal responsibility. He said graduates know no provincial boundaries in the application of their knowledge, and Canada's future as a nation depended upon the number of highly educated men it produced.

Medicare Coming to B.C. —If Ottawa Pays Half

British Columbia won't go into medicare unless Ottawa puts up half the cost, the legislature was told yesterday.

Jeers and laughter flowed from NDP benches as Education Minister Peterson made the government's anxiously-awaited medicare policy statement. See Page 13.

"You've moved backward with vigor," called Opposition Leader Robert Strachan.

Mr. Peterson said the government is determined to "avoid the tragic situation that developed in Saskatchewan."

He said B.C. was the first province to propose a comprehensive national health plan at a federal-provincial conference in 1956 and that it "was not too well received."

But now, he continued, "it is our belief that early action can be expected from Ottawa regardless of what party is in office after the next election."

As soon as the April 8 federal election is over the B.C. government would ask for a special federal-provincial conference on a national health plan which would include comprehensive medical coverage.

He said the Saskatchewan medicare program was chaotic and divided brother from sister.

"That will never happen in this province as long as we are the government."

He said that if B.C. moved into medicare itself its taxpayers might eventually be penalized when Ottawa does move into a national health plan.

The government, he stated, is opposed to further increase in taxation and could participate in a national scheme without it.

Polaris Bases Hard to Find

ROME (AP)—The United States was reported Tuesday night encountering political problems in finding a Polaris submarine base in Spain or Italy.

But an American source said Washington is going ahead with plans to station three Polaris subs in the Mediterranean starting April 1.

The source said the three will run long-distance patrols out of Holy Loch, Scotland, until a Mediterranean base is found.

Premier Fanfani's Italian government faces a general election in late April or early May and is eager to go to the voters with an Italy free of U.S. lines.

missile bases. Jupiter land-based missiles are being withdrawn from Italy.

Gen. Franco of Spain is said to be demanding admission to NATO as his price for permitting use of the base at Rota, Spain.

TARGET DATE

The U.S. deputy defence secretary, Roswell Gilpatric, discussed the Polaris problem with Fanfani and Defence Minister Giulio Andreotti. The source said Gilpatric told the Italian government that the United States wanted to maintain April 1 as the target date for closing Jupiter missile bases in Italy and Turkey, with the Polaris subs taking the place of the Jupiters in NATO defence lines.

There were good arguments for higher education becoming a federal responsibility. He said graduates know no provincial boundaries in the application of their knowledge, and Canada's future as a nation depended upon the number of highly educated men it produced.

Yemen Ousts British Envoy

LONDON (Reuters)—Yemen has told Britain to remove her diplomatic mission from the Red Sea republic within seven days, a foreign office spokesman said Tuesday.

The Yemeni republic government had frequently threatened Britain would be asked to remove her diplomats if she did not recognize the new government which took power from the royalists in a coup last September.

In 21 minutes he disposed of the budget, last summer's financial crisis, the "plot" against the provincial government's party bonds, the press, the Liberals and the NDP.

It tied in length with the speech of Dr. Patrick McGee (L—Vancouver-Point Grey) for the shortest this session.

Mr. Skillings said private members should speak for not more than 40 minutes in either the throne speech or budget debates but not in both. Cabinet ministers shouldn't speak in either but could have a whole hour on their own departmental estimates.

43 Believed Dead Airliner Plunges Into Everglades

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Miami to Chicago jet airliner carrying 43 persons crashed and burned Tuesday in south Florida's everglades wilderness shortly after takeoff in a vicious squall.

The U.S. Coast Guard reported all aboard apparently were killed.

"The fuselage is busted up," said Lt. Cmdr. James Dillon, one of two helicopter pilots who found and explored the wreck.

BADLY BURNED

"It's been consumed by fire. Badly burned—gutted."

"There were two fires burning from the air, they looked like bonfires. The tail was broken off. Other major components were scattered around."

Dillon's co-pilot, Lt. Cmdr. James Wallace, reported seeing at least one body intact.

SEARCH IN DARK

Swamp buggies and other special vehicles lured toward the pitch-dark crash scene—nine miles from the nearest road—where the Northwest Orient Airlines plane, missing 6½ hours, was found by coast guard officers in a helicopter that was part of a search armada circling the southeast.

USE FLASHLIGHTS

The coast guard officers landed and explored the area with flashlights.

The plane was a Boeing 730-B jet capable of carrying 165 passengers. Aboard were 33 passengers and a crew of eight.

Dillon and Wallace said it looked as if the airliner pilot had attempted an emergency landing. There was no immediate sign of an explosion.

Crashes in Field

Flight Over Falls Fatal to Four

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Four men on a pleasure flight over Niagara Falls died Tuesday when their single engine plane crashed into a snow-covered field near the Niagara Parkway.

The men, all from Niagara Falls, N.Y., had taken off only 15 minutes earlier from the St. Catharines, Ont., Flying Club for an aerial view of the falls.

Dead are Theodore Stevens, 28, a native of Winnipeg, and three Americans, John Barclay, 24, Robert Dutko, 25, and James Dowling, 20. All were employed as technicians in the electro-minerals division of the Carborundum Company.

The plane dug a three-foot crater in the frozen ground and wreckage was scattered over a 100-foot circle.

Stevens, who received his licence in Winnipeg, piloted the plane, a red and white Piper Tri-Pacer owned by the St. Catharines Flying Club.

Oral Vaccine Ban Baffles Whitbread

Disatisfied with "unexplained opposition" to the use of oral polio vaccine for primary protection, a senior public health official in Victoria says he will rebel.

"One wonders, have we been told the whole truth," Dr. J. L. M. Whitbread, senior medical health officer of the Metropolitan Board of Health, said last night. (See Page 13.)

"I personally think that the Sabin oral vaccine could be used for primary vaccinations as it had been used previously."

Use of the Salk vaccine, which requires an injection for each dose, has been recommended by the National Department of Health. It has also recommended that the Sabin vaccine be limited to "booster" doses for persons who have already had the Salk vaccine.

"So far I have not been given any reason why the oral vaccine should not be used."

Dr. Whitbread said he will put his views before a meeting of the Metropolitan Board of Health in August or September which will lay plans for the annual polio vaccination.

"I personally think there is no reason why it should not be used as it was used before."

"Why is it only being kept to booster doses?"

Victoria Social Credit MLA Waldo Skillings yesterday told the legislature that the financial company he works for was involved in last summer's "carefully laid plan" to embarrass the B.C. government.

He has been, and still is, employed by Great West Life Assurance Co.

Speaking in the budget debate he said, "I have been employed with one of Canada's largest financial institutions."

"Probably no one in this House came under greater pressure than I did."

"I am talking about pressure from above. I will mention no names, but I got plenty."

"It seems strange to me that one of the largest financial institutions should, during that period of time, have no money to place in B.C."

"But they had millions for Alberta, Saskatchewan and other provinces at the same time."

articles by John De Wolf in the Vancouver Province. The articles and the paper have been a daily target for government speakers since the session started.

"Do you think he didn't have an axe to grind?"

"I would be the last one to suggest he had been paid to write them because I don't think that would be fair."

He said that some MLA's had come to the defence of the press but he didn't think it was necessary. He said reporters did a fine job.

"I will tell you where the trouble is—the trouble is at the top."

NDP benches rang with cries of "name them, name them."

"Stu Keate and Don Crombie," he said, naming respectively the publishers of the Victoria Times and Vancouver Sun.

"Oh, oh, you're gone," cried out one opposition member.

"Goodbye, Waldo," shouted Tony Garrahy (NDP—Mackenzie).
